Journal of the House

NINETY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 2003

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable Matt Blunt, Secretary of State.

Prayer by former Representative Pat Kelley.

Unless the Lord builds the House,
Its builders labor in vain.
Unless the Lord watches over the city,
The watchmen stand guard in vain.

Psalm 127:1

Gracious God,

You are an awesome and wonderful God and we praise You and give You thanks for Your many gifts; for the gift of life, family, friends and all your blessings. We put You first on the agenda because that is where You belong. You were here before we were. You created us and put us here to take care of Your incredible creation. You gave us a plan and laws and moral principles that would guide us to a wonderful life. However, all too often, we went our own way and didn't follow Your plan. History has taught us when we go our way instead of Yours, we labor in vain.

Gracious God, we come humbly today to acknowledge the error of our ways and to ask You to fill us with Your spirit and guide us into the future. We pray that as these legislators take their solemn oath to serve here they will also commit to follow You and use the plans and principles You have given us. When we build this House we pray that You will not only be first on the agenda, but that You will be central in our minds and hearts in everything we do. We pray that You will guide and direct the legislators, staff and all those in government and that everything we do will bring honor and glory to You.

Gracious God, thank You for the legislators and others who served in government for their service to our state and bless these new legislators, their families, our staff and all our workers and give them wisdom to make the right decisions and hearts of compassion and a passion for justice for our people.

We pray that You will bless all the people in our state and that all of us will join together to build a House based on the strong foundation You have given us.

In the name of our Lord we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE MATT BLUNT

Governor Holden, Auditor McCaskill, Treasurer Farmer, Attorney General Nixon, Judge Benton and Judge Garrison, Members of the 92nd General Assembly, honored guests, families, fellow citizens, and friends. Good morning.

As a former member of this body it is an honor to preside at this important occasion, the first day of this session and the first day of service as elected officials for many in this Assembly.

2 Journal of the House

This day is the culmination of the brilliant process by which free people select their leaders and this is a prominent moment in Missouri history.

Not only have the people placed 90 new legislators in this body, but today we also witness a shift in the leadership of this Chamber for the first time in nearly half a century.

This day is and should always be a great cause of celebration and many Missourians look with renewed hope to this General Assembly; however, those celebratory thoughts are tempered this year by the evident needs of Missourians and by our sacred duty to place state government on a course of service to the people.

Regardless of party affiliation, your energy, your ideas, and your vast experiences are required as our state and its citizens face imposing challenges. All of these obstacles can be surmounted if we apply the same determination demonstrated everyday by the working families of Missouri.

Woodrow Wilson said, "The ear of the leader must ring with the voices of the people." Let us not forget that the best ideas for improving Missouri government are derived from those who sent you to this Capitol.

Missourians have entrusted you with the task of collectively working for the common good of our state. They have asked you to author new ideas and new solutions to Missouri's growing problems.

Democracy is a covenant between the people and their representatives and I have great confidence that you will keep their charge as a sacred obligation.

Fortunately, you will not be alone in your efforts. Missouri is abundant with sound local governments with thousands of dedicated public servants. Missouri's farmers and entrepreneurs continue to provide economic opportunities for the people of our state.

Our state's employers have proven to be good corporate citizens. Missouri businesses want to create good jobs for Missouri's families. And most importantly Missouri is blessed with the finest workforce in the world - men and women whose labor is the foundation of Missouri's future.

I look forward to working with each and every one of you in the days ahead. I congratulate you on your new responsibilities and I thank you for your willingness to serve the people of our great state.

May God grant you the wisdom to guide our state, the strength to make the difficult decisions required of your office and the courage to see those decisions through.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the 92nd General Assembly, First Regular Session, of the State of Missouri:

ADDRESS BY TEMPORARY SPEAKER CHARLES PORTWOOD

Thank you Mr. Secretary

Whether a Republican or a Democrat, the significance of this day is the same - our motivation is the same - to serve the people of Missouri.

Serving in this august body and presiding as temporary Speaker of the House indeed is an honor. I am pleased to welcome each of our family members, guests, constituents, friends, former members and fellow Missourians who have allowed this day to come to pass.

I am especially proud to be accompanied by my family - if you would please stand: my beautiful and intelligent wife of 20 years, Dawn, my eldest son Charles, my two adorable daughters Katherin and Laura, and my baby boy Harrison. I am thankful for my family who has made the sacrifices to allow me to serve the 92nd district.

The support, love and prayers of our families, friends and constituents are the foundation of this chamber. A change in leadership and direction of the House of Representatives represents a new beginning.

In ushering in this new era, with our sights set not upon politics or partisanship, but upon the principles of good government, I now declare that nominations are in order for Speaker of the House.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER CATHERINE HANAWAY

BUILDING MISSOURI'S FUTURE

Governor, Mr. Secretary, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, Mr. Chief Justice, Your Honors, Esteemed Colleagues and Honored Guests. Today, as I take this gavel, I feel its weight - the weight of the responsibility we all share, regardless of party, to build a better Missouri.

For as John Adams said in his inaugural address, "there can be no spectacle by any nation more pleasing, more noble, majestic or august than an assembly like [this] ... selected at regular periods by their neighbors to make and execute laws for the general good."

If you look at this gavel, it really is very much like another tool, a hammer - a hammer with two heads and no claw. A hammer meant only for building not for tearing down or tearing apart.

All of us have been entrusted by our fellow citizens to build something greater than we have inherited.

First, let's thank those people who helped us get here. Stand up, look into the galleries for your friends and family, wave to them, and applaud with all the gratitude that is in your hearts.

Thank you, members of the House, for choosing me as your Speaker. Thank you, staff members, for your tremendous hard work and a successful transition. Thank you, former members of the House, for the sacrifices you made and your service to this House.

Now, I would like to say a special thank you to my family. My aunt and uncle, Dorothy and Dick Moore, my in-laws, Joe and Nancy Hanaway, my brother, Charles Moore, my sister, Anne Moore, and my parents, Bob and Virginia Moore who have all traveled great distances to be here today.

I thank them for the values they instilled in me, their constant challenge to me to always do my best, and all of their love and support.

Finally, my husband, Chris, and my daughter, Lucy. They have truly made the greatest sacrifices for this day. How do you thank a husband who always puts you before himself or a daughter who is the light of your life? The best I can say is life would not be worth living without you, and I love you with all my heart.

Together, we are setting an uncharted course. There are more new members of this House than ever before, a change in party control for the first time in 48 years and, for the first time in decades, a budget with declining general revenues. We will have less with which we will be expected to do more and do better.

But, we are all leaders and builders. We are the representatives of a great and resilient people.

Together, we can build:

A Missouri where every person who wants a job can find one;

A Missouri where every person regardless of gender, race, creed or color can live their dreams;

A Missouri where every child can get a world-class education from kindergarten through high school and beyond;

A Missouri where the most vulnerable citizens are cared for and treated with dignity; and, a Missouri that knows the best is yet to come.

We can build a Missouri that begins with accountability and ends with greater opportunity.

This is a grand plan - a plan that will take time, discipline, sacrifice and hard work. But, Missouri is known for hard work. We have led this country in times of great challenge and opportunity. The farmers of our state have fed the world. The men and women of our factories revolutionized air travel and aerospace. Our scientists have mapped the human genome.

Now, our citizens are facing a very difficult time. A time when those who want to work hard and sacrifice have been denied that chance. During the past 19 months, 77,000 Missourians have lost their jobs. Missouri has led the country in job losses. 77,000 times men and women had to go home and say to their spouses and their children, "Honey, I lost my job today."

Nothing has hurt those families and our state more. In a flash, a taxpayer became a tax consumer. In a flash, a person who was gainfully employed, had health insurance and provided for themselves and their family became a person without a job, without health insurance, without the means to care for themselves and their family.

The policies of our state government have driven jobs out of this state and kept others from coming here. Our state government has stifled growth through an economy-eating, ever ballooning budget, through an open door for job-killing frivolous lawsuits, and through regulatory burdens that crush initiative.

Part of the reason the state is facing a budget crisis is because each time a man or woman loses their job, the state loses tax revenue and has to provide services to the unemployed.

No state program can replace a job. We might be able to provide some short-term assistance. But, we can't give back productivity, we can't give back self-respect and self-reliance, we can't give back opportunity, we can't give back dreams.

Therefore, priority-one must be the creation and retention of good jobs.

When we unbridle the ingenuity, the innovation, the drive, and the creativity within in each of our fellow Missourians, we will reach the heights of prosperity, progress and productivity.

Much will be made of our budget situation. Without question, we can no longer afford to do everything state government has been doing. There is not enough money, because we have overspent and overextended. There will be much pressure to try to borrow or tax our way out of these difficult times. The state is collecting less money because our citizens are earning less money. The voters told us twice last year to keep our hands out of their pockets. We must resist the temptation to take more from our citizens at a time when they have less to give.

The table has been set by our fellow Missourians. They want us to spend what we have more wisely. They want us to hold government accountable. They want to know we have set priorities and that we demand performance from every aspect of state government.

To Governor Holden, I say we need your help, and we want to be your partners. We will do all that we can to craft a state budget that serves our state well. But, you must do your part. Do not send us a budget that balances only through tax increases, expansions of gambling, and use of the Rainy Day Fund - do not send us a budget that does not reflect the will of people of Missouri.

To Department Directors and all those who run state programs, I say when you come to this House this year, come prepared. Be prepared to explain what you do, what you hope to do, why it is important, and how we can measure whether you are successful. The vast majority of the men and women who work in state government are hard working people who serve this state well. But, we are now called on to decide what is working and what is most important.

There are also some Missourians who can't provide for themselves. They can't work because they are young or they are old or they are severely disabled. State government has a solemn duty to educate the young, protect the old, and care for the disabled.

Education is the great equalizer. With a quality education, every Missourian can rise to the highest levels of achievement. Public education is the highest priority in our state constitution, and we must live up to that duty. We must also be willing to change the status quo and act boldly and innovatively to improve our schools.

Our seniors deserve dignity, respect and quality care in our nursing homes. Most nursing homes are filled with caregivers who treat residents like a second family. But, for those who abuse or neglect our seniors, we must make clear that they will pay for their actions.

There are almost 13,000 children who are in the custody of the state. We are by law their guardians. We are their stewards. Last year, we failed five of those children mortally - they died while in our custody. This must not stand. No program, no person, no judge, no caseworker, no foster parent will be able to hide from our quest to root out what is evil in this system.

And, we must also work to protect those children who would be killed even before they are born.

We can build a better Missouri than we have inherited.

I cannot help but think about one of the great builders in my own family - my maternal grandfather - Charlie Mimick.

Grandpa was born in 1898. He was born to large family, without much in the way of material wealth, on the prairies of Nebraska. His first language was Polish, and he had a fourth grade education. But, in his 85 years on this earth he built much of the backbone of this country.

For 50 years, he was a laborer - a bridge builder for the Union Pacific railroad. Throughout my childhood he told me stories of the hardships of life as a bridge builder, how he lived most of the time in a train car, baking in the summer, freezing in the winter, and of the incredible risks they took each day building bridges across great divides. Many men were seriously injured. Some died. Literally, great divides were crossed by building bridges into the air until they reached the other side.

At times, it must have seemed impossible. But, my grandfather and fellow workers didn't see impossibility, they saw possibility. They saw the opportunity to make this country stronger, to get farmers food to people who were hungry, to get medicines to people on the frontier, and to open the West. Along with tens of thousands of men just like him, he built the railroads that opened this country to progress and commerce that united this country from coast-to-coast.

Today, we all begin to answer the call to be builders for the future of Missouri. Not only do we build upon what has gone before, but in many ways we must rebuild the greatness of this state. Like my grandfather, we are going to face enormous challenges - against tremendous odds - and like he and his fellow workers we will have to work as a team to be successful.

The challenges we face were not created in a day, a session, or year; and they won't be solved quickly or easily. But, we can meet these challenges, because our people are strong, able, and willing. The strength of the human spirit will shine through these dark days to bring an even more brilliant dawn.

Each day as I pickup this gavel, I will ask God, our Father, to give me the strength to wield it with justice, compassion, wisdom and strength. I ask the Almighty to bless the work of this House. God bless you and God bless Missouri.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM ROD JETTON

PATH TO PROSPERITY

Chief Justice Limbaugh, statewide elected officials, Madam Speaker, fellow members and honored guests. Today we are observing not a political victory but a change in Missouri's direction.

This is the first time in 48 years a new party will be leading the Missouri House. Term limits have ushered in new faces, new ideas, and new energy into Missouri government. These ideas and energy will lead the House down a new path that leads to prosperity for all Missourians.

Two hundred years ago this year another journey was begun to blaze a new trail by Lewis and Clark. Their journey was filled with danger and they faced many obstacles along the way, but we have reaped the rewards of following the path they laid out for Missouri.

I want to take a few moments to describe what this new path to prosperity will look like, and discuss some of the obstacles that we'll have to overcome during our journey. Like Lewis and Clark, it will not be an easy path, but together we can overcome the challenges and leave the generations that follow us the same rewards our forefathers gave us.

The Budget and Out of Control Spending

The first obstacle we will encounter is our economy and Missouri's state budget. There is no use in sugar coating the situation. Our budget is a mess. State spending has doubled from 9 to $19 billion in just the last 10 years. Truthfully we don't even know how or where all that money is being spent! But the citizens of this state know where it is coming from. They are paying it in higher taxes.

In the past 10 years our state has increased gas taxes, property taxes, and income taxes. This flooded the state treasury with money, but as fast as the tax revenues have come in they've not been able to keep pace with state spending.

We must reform our budget and stop out of control state spending.

Revive The Economy

But controlling spending will not solve our budget problems alone. We must adopt policies that improve Missouri's economy. Missouri lost 77,000 jobs just the last 19 months. This is more per capita than any other state in the country. Can you imagine what those 77,000 jobs would have done for our economy? Can you also imagine the devastation felt by those 77,000 families?

You may wonder where all those jobs went? Well, 20,000 of them went overseas, but the others went to states like Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kentucky, and Arkansas. We have to do something. We need to reform our workers compensation laws. We need to fix our unemployment system. We must cut the needless regulations and bureaucratic red tape that is strangling our small businesses. These policy changes will create a business climate that stimulates our economy and produces jobs.

Together we must create jobs and put Missourians back to work.

Partisan Politics

Another obstacle that stands in our way is partisan politics. All too often in the past partisan politics stifled good policies. Term limits has given us a unique opportunity to put the past behind us. Let's pledge to forget the partisan past and build new bonds of bipartisan friendship that will carry us into the future.

I pledge to work with the Governor, members of the Senate, and each and every one of you for the benefit of all our citizens.

Regional Interests

Missouri is a large state with a very diverse geography. It's citizens are just as diverse as the land they live on. We have the flat farmland where I live in Southeast Missouri, the Ozark Mountains in the southwest corner of the state, and the rolling hills of northern Missouri.

We are also fortunate to have St. Louis and Kansas City, two of the leading cities in America. Kansas City and St. Louis both have big industries, major corporations and large populations. Around these cities we have prosperous suburban communities. The rest of the state is filled with good farmland and friendly small towns and cities. Missouri basically has a little bit of everything. Some states are only farming states while others are just big metropolitan areas. We are blessed to be a well-rounded state.

Too often we let our differences drive us apart. St. Louis fights with Kansas City. The cities fight with the counties. The north fights with the south. The east fights with the west. Sometimes it seems that each area only cares about their selves.

Our differences should be our strength. What we do in this chamber affects the whole state. As the Governor said in his inaugural we have one state and it will take all of us working together to make it great. Let's take the new path that leads to prosperity by putting our regional interest aside and working for all Missourians.

Conclusion

Over the past few weeks I have had many people ask me what the issues and priorities will be in the House next year. Fortunately we have good people in both parties who want to improve Missouri. There are some pressing problems that must be dealt with this year. I believe some of them include:

- Reforming MoDOT and building roads
- Improving education and giving our schools the resources they need
- Protecting the unborn and standing up for the sanctity of life
- Making healthcare more affordable and accessible by passing meaningful tort reform
- Protecting the Second Amendment and allowing citizens to defend themselves
- Ensure our hard-earned tax dollars are spent as promised

These are all issues we'll work on as we go down this new path to prosperity. But we won't be able to solve any of them if we don't fix our budget, stop the partisan fighting, and put the state ahead of our own regional interests. Because all three of the obstacles I have mentioned will affect our ability to address the pressing problems we all care about.

It's a big challenge and it will take each of us doing our part. As I said at the beginning - this new path will not be easy, but it will be rewarding.

We'll never be able to do it without the support of our families. I want to take a moment to thank your families for allowing you to join us in this challenge. I also want to thank someone very special to me, my wife Cassie, and my children Callie, Emily and Will. Without their support I wouldn't be here today. And I want to thank each of you for electing me to be one of your leaders in this chamber. I will strive to help and serve all the members of this House.

As we set out on this journey if we will remember to stay on the path that controls spending, revitalizes our economy, shuns partisan politics and places the state's interest before our own. We can take pride that Missouri will be headed into the 21st century on the right path. The same path that Lewis and Clark blazed for Missouri over 200 years ago.

I ask for your help as we set out on this journey and I pledge my full service and support in overcoming the challenges that lie ahead.

The apostle Paul wrote, "Let us not be weary in well-doing. For in due season we shall reap if we faint not."

Let those of us in the chamber be strong in that resolve. Let us go forward into the next century doing much good and reaping many rewards for the citizens of Missouri.

Thank you, God bless you and God bless our state.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

The complaint shall be confidential. The Committee shall examine the sufficiency of the complaint, and proceed to conduct an investigation as provided in the Committee's Rules of Procedure, if a majority of the Committee appointed so votes upon a roll call.

(e) At the conclusion of the investigation, the Committee shall report its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the House, whereupon the House shall act by resolution to sustain or reject the Committee recommendations. The Committee may recommend that the House expel the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, or that the House punish the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, by reprimand on the adoption of the resolution or by censure by the Speaker in open session.

(b) Manner of Printing. Any bill shall have the matter which is being repealed from current law enclosed in bold-faced brackets and the matter which is being added to the law underscored when typewritten and in bold-faced type when printed. A footnote shall be annexed to the first page of each bill which contains material enclosed in bold-faced brackets to the following effect:

"Explanation - Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets [thus] in the above bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted from the law. Matter in bold-face type in the above bill is proposed language." (c) Number of Copies. Each bill shall be submitted in triplicate.

Number Of Copies Printed

Rule 38. The Chief Clerk shall print such number of copies of all House Bills and House Joint Resolutions as he/she shall deem appropriate; provided however, it shall never be less than 500.

Timing for Placement on Calendar Federal Mandate Calendar

Rule 39. (a) When a federal mandate bill is reported from the committee with recommendation that it "do pass" or "without recommendation", it shall go upon the calendar of the House. No bill shall be taken up for consideration by the House unless it has been upon the calendar for at least one legislative day.

(b) No bill shall be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendars unless it is federally mandated, immediate in nature and reduces revenues or savings if not enacted. A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline with which the State must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the State fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "do pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether or not to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported do pass by the committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, the chair shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating State action. If the Speaker concurs with the committee that the bill complies with the requirements of this rule, he/she shall advise the Chief Clerk to place same on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If the Speaker does not concur, he/she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Motion To Place On Calendar

Rule 40. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "do not pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the author of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar must be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within said time, the bill shall lie on the table.

Bills Laid Over Informally

Rule 41. When a bill is reached, in its order, to be perfected and printed, or to be agreed to and read a third time and placed upon its final passage, it may upon the request of the Majority Floor Leader, or the sponsor or handler thereof, if a House Bill, (or upon the request of its handler in the House, if a Senate Bill) hold its place on the calendar, or be laid over informally, and thereafter be called up at any time when otherwise in order.

To Appear In Order

Rule 42. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day, shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Ten Day Rule

Rule 43. If a bill laid over informally is not taken up for further consideration within ten legislative days after being laid over, it shall lie on the table and be dropped from the calendar of the House without further action of the House.

Consent Calendar

Rule 44. (a) Which Bills May Be Placed on the Consent Calendar. Each committee, after a favorable vote on a bill, may further determine by a second and affirmative vote of every member present whether or not such bill is of a noncontroversial nature. Any bill which increases net expenditures of the state, reduces net revenue of the state, or contains penalty provisions, shall not be considered by the committee for consent; provided however, any bill which specifically authorizes an easement or right-of-way involving state property may be considered by the committee for placement on the Consent Calendar.

(b) Procedure on House Bills. If the committee shall so determine, the committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection". Any bill so reported shall automatically be placed on that calendar and after said bill has remained on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection" for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the "House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage" without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

(c) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for Consent even if it was not a Consent Bill in the Senate.

(d) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the House committee with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(e) Deadline for Taking up Senate Consent Bills. No Senate consent bills may be taken up after 6:00 p.m. on the first Thursday following the third Monday in April.

(f) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 45. (a) In Writing. Proposed amendments must be reduced to writing. Every amendment shall be read in its entirety by the clerk unless it has been distributed in advance, the amendment's sponsor requests waiver of the reading, and there is no objection to the request. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed in advance if, before it is offered, it has been placed on the members' desks in paper form. Every amendment that exceeds two pages in length must be distributed in advance unless the amendment's sponsor requests waiver of the distribution, and there is no objection to the request. The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature.

(b) Distribution Required. All amendments which are in the first degree (and not substitute amendments) shall be submitted to the Chief Clerk's Office and distributed prior to the opening gavel of the day on which such amendment is offered.

(c) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it shall also be in order to offer a further amendment by way of a substitute, to which one amendment may be offered. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any bill or amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before amendment or decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House.

(d) House Substitutes and Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House committee substitute and any House substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.

(e) House Substitute. A House substitute must be distributed to the members at least one legislative day prior to its consideration by the House. A House amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is in reality a House substitute, must be distributed in the same manner as a House substitute.

(f) One House Substitute at a Time. Only one House substitute shall be in order at one time; provided however, that if a member has previously distributed a different House substitute, an explanation of the alternative House substitute shall not be subject to a point of order that such explanation is not germane to the pending House substitute then under consideration.

(g) When Amendments to Federal Mandate Bills are Permitted. Amendments to House and Senate Federal Mandate bills are not permitted, except perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical corrections; provided however, upon timely request by a member, a Division of the Question may be in order on a Federal Mandate bill, if it otherwise meets the requirements for a Division of the Question.

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 46. When a committee recommends a substitute for a bill the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 47. When amendments to any bill, motion or proposition are pending they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Substitute for the bill is then voted upon. If the House Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If a House Substitute is not offered or not adopted, a House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(7) If neither a House Substitute nor a House Committee Substitute is offered or adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 48. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Rule 49. When a bill shall have passed the House and been returned from the Senate with amendments, said amendments may be concurred in collectively, or amended, by a constitutional majority, unless objection be made, in which case the vote shall be taken severally, and no amendment or amendments shall be concurred in by the House except by a constitutional majority and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the Journal of the House.

Repassage

Rule 50. When all Senate amendments to House Bills have been concurred in by a constitutional majority of the House, the question shall then be put: "Shall the bill as amended be passed?" On this question the ayes and noes shall be called for, and as on first passage, a constitutional majority shall be necessary to the final passage of the bill.

Majority To Perfect

Rule 51. A quorum being present, a majority of those voting aye and no shall be sufficient to perfect a bill and order it printed.

Amending After Perfection; Perfecting Amendments

Rule 52. No bill shall be amended after being perfected and printed without a reconsideration of the vote by which it was ordered perfected and printed and if said bill be amended it shall again be perfected and printed, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order after the bill has been ordered perfected and printed and before it has been read the third time.

Motion for Final Passage

Rule 53. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as truly perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. When the bill is taken up in its order, the question shall then be: "Shall the bill be third read and passed?" It shall require a constitutional majority to sustain the question.

Course After Passage

Rule 54. When a bill or joint or concurrent resolution passes the House, it shall be certified by the Chief Clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

Perfecting Amendments on Bills Returned From the Senate

Rule 55. No bill or joint or concurrent resolution that has been returned from the Senate may be further amended without placing the bill in conference, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order in the house of origin when the bill is taken up for final passage as amended by the other house. The perfecting amendment may be directed to the bill or to amendments to the bill. If a perfecting amendment is adopted, the bill as finally passed with the perfecting amendment shall be returned to the other house for its concurrence in the perfecting amendment.

Conference Reports

Rule 56. (a) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five conferees from each house and no conference report shall be submitted to either house unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than two conferees from each house signing the report.

(b) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is taken up by the House, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

(c) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members at least one legislative day prior to consideration.

(d) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees must confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

RESOLUTIONS

Joint and Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 57. All joint and concurrent resolutions designed to submit to the qualified voters of the state amendments to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, to be voted upon by such voters, shall be read on three separate days, and shall be reported upon by the committee of the House, and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

Rule 58. All joint and concurrent resolutions of the Congress of the United States designed to submit to the legislature an amendment to the Constitution of the United States shall be submitted as a Concurrent Resolution and read on three separate days, shall be reported upon by a committee, shall be adopted only by a constitutional majority and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

The text of the amendment as proposed by the Congress of the United States shall not be amended.

Reference of Resolutions, etc. Stand Referred

Rule 59. All petitions, memorials, remonstrances, resolutions and other papers offered shall stand referred, without reading, consideration, discussion, explanation or debate, to the Committee on Rules unless timely referred to some other appropriate committee by the Speaker. Those papers that are favorably recommended by the committee for adoption by the House shall be printed in the Journal and placed upon a resolutions calendar. Courtesy resolutions shall be printed in the Journal by number except those determined by the Committee to be of a controversial nature which shall be printed in full.

SENATE BILLS

Rule 60. Each Senate Bill shall, upon second reading, be referred to the appropriate committee of the House.

Go Upon The Calendar

Rule 61. When a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which it was referred with the recommendation that it "do pass", or "without recommendation", it shall go upon the House Calendar for the third reading and final passage, provided that no Senate Bill shall be taken up for consideration by the House unless it has been upon the Calendar for at least one legislative day.

Senate Bills Reported "Do Not Pass"

Rule 62. If a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which referred with the recommendation that it "do not pass" it shall not go upon the calendar of the House for third reading and final passage, unless so ordered by a constitutional majority of the House. In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report, and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill.

Amendments

Rule 63. Senate Bills may be amended by the House when placed upon third reading and final passage, before the vote is taken thereon.

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained but to adjourn; to take a recess; to lay on the table; for the previous question; to postpone to a certain day; to recommit to committee; or to postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the order herein set forth.

Dilatory

Rule 70. When any of the motions enumerated in the preceding rule have been made and lost, no similar motion shall be entertained until some other business is transacted by the House.

Privileged Motions In Order - When

Rule 71. Except as otherwise limited herein, and except when a member is speaking or the roll is being called, the privileged motions set forth in Rule 69 are always in order, and pending the result of such a motion, no member shall leave his/her seat in the House.

Previous Question

Rule 72. Any member may move the previous question. The motion shall be restated by the Speaker in this form: "Shall the question under immediate consideration be now put?" It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Not Debatable

Rule 73. Motions to adjourn and for the previous question shall be decided without debate; provided however, that a motion to adjourn is subject to a request by five members for a roll call vote. All other privileged motions are debatable.

Division of Questions

Rule 74. Any member may have, as a personal right, a division of the question where the sense will admit of it. When the question having been divided is a Senate Bill for Third Reading, each part of the bill shall be voted upon separately and a subsequent separate vote shall be taken on the entire bill. When a bill is divided for consideration, the title and enacting clause shall be considered a separate part and shall, unless otherwise amended, be technically changed to reflect any amendments or deletions to the bill.

Motion to Recommit to Committee

Rule 77. Any member may make a motion, at any time prior to the time said bill is third read and passed, that a bill be recommitted to the committee from which it was reported or that a bill be committed to another specifically named committee, which shall be sustained if a majority of the members present vote in the affirmative.

Motion to Reconsider - Must Be Made within Three Days

Rule 78. When a motion that a bill be perfected and printed, or that a bill be agreed to, read a third time, and placed upon its passage fails, or when any other question is decided by the House, any member voting on the prevailing side may move to reconsider the vote provided that the motion to reconsider is made within three legislative days after the day on which the vote was taken.

Procedure for Motion to Reconsider

Rule 79. A constitutional majority is required to sustain any motion to reconsider. If the motion to reconsider is sustained the House shall proceed to the original question or motion immediately before proceeding to other questions; whereupon the original question shall be voted upon before any other business of the House is transacted. This shall not preclude further debate or amendment of the proposition, if otherwise appropriate. Any motion to reconsider having failed once shall not be reconsidered again, except to reconsider the vote by which an appropriation bill failed to pass. In the case of an appropriation bill, the motion to reconsider may be considered as many times as the House chooses.

If any member violates the rules of the House, the Speaker, or any member, may call him/her to order. Any member called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case.

Appeals

Rule 82. The Speaker shall not recognize any member desiring to speak unless such member arises or appropriately seeks recognition at or near his/her desk. When two or more members seek recognition at the same time the Speaker shall name the member who is to speak first, the other members having the preference next to speak.

No member shall be recorded as voting when he/she was not present when the vote was taken. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit a member from voting "Present" on a question, and such vote shall be recorded in the Journal. In the case of equal division the question shall be lost. In the event that a member's vote (or absence) is incorrectly recorded in the Journal, he/she shall file with the Chief Clerk an affidavit stating that he/she was in the chamber at the time the vote was taken, that he/she did in fact vote, that the vote (or absence) was incorrectly recorded and the correct vote that should have been recorded.

Demand for Verification

Rule 90. Any five members may demand a verification of the roll call if such is made at any time prior to the time the voting has ended; which, in the event of electronic voting, shall be when the Speaker orders the voting board closed. Roll Call Votes

Rule 92. In all cases where a rule of the House of Representatives refers to the "calling of the names of the members" or "calling of the ayes or noes" or "calling of the roll", such reference shall be understood to refer also to the "taking" of the vote by electronic roll call system. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 2003

Representative Townley in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, even as it is written, "The Lord has heard my supplication, the Lord receives my prayer," so may You hear and receive our prayer.

We come in simple dependence upon Your grace and rest in simple faith upon Your greatness.

Grant us expanse of vision that we might see the immense possibilities arrayed before us this day.

Grant us out of generosity of Your wisdom: true knowledge and insight that we might rightly conduct the affairs of this state.

Instruct us, teach us, and guide us in our course of action this day that our accomplishments may be of eternal consequence.

Father, may Your grace and mercy cover Annie Reinhart and her family seeing her through surgery to recovery.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with us all.
Amen.

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, even as it is written, "You Lord are a shield about me, my glory and the lifter of my head" so may You be a shield to watch over us as we come before You this morning.

You are our point of reference for counsel and have the master plan for our lives: knowing the end from the beginning.

May our thoughts reveal purity of heart, our words reveal uncompromising truth, and may our pursuits be sculptured in Your will.

Father, as we journey through this day, cause the darkness of misunderstanding to yield to the light of reason.

Guide us in Your strength and Your wisdom.

We pray for Representative Gayle Kingery, that Your grace, mercy and peace would keep him through his hospitalization.

Guide the hand of the attending physicians, direct their thoughts.

May the grace of our Lord, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with us all. Amen.

ESCORT COMMITTEE

The Speaker appointed the following committee to escort His Excellency Governor Bob Holden to the dais: Representatives Portwood, Fares, May, Moore, Mayer, Hunter, Abel, Donnelly, Ransdall and Thompson.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Bob Holden, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR BOB HOLDEN

January 15, 2003

Mr. President, Madam Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Mr. Chief Justice, Honored Members of the Missouri Supreme Court, Members of the 92nd General Assembly, First Lady Lori Hauser Holden, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

I come before you today, the 15th of January, on the anniversary of the birth of one of our greatest American leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Had his life not been tragically ended at the age of 39, he would be 74 today.

Yet in that short life span, the words he spoke and the principles he stood for...fought for...and died for...had such an impact that they continue to help chart our course today.

In the face of threats and intimidation that he and other civil rights leaders faced, Dr. King taught us the important lesson of perseverance.

And, he warned us against the temptation of "wallowing in the valley of despair".

He had a Dream...and in spite of seemingly impossible obstacles, he held firm to that Dream.

Today, Dr. King's wisdom and leadership can guide us as we move forward in challenging times.

President Franklin Roosevelt faced such times.

He faced the greatest economic depression this country has ever known, and he taught us that when you lead with "frankness and vigor", you are met with "understanding and support".

Our own Harry Truman faced tough economic times as President.

Yet he offered the American people straight talk and a plan....a plan he called his Fair Deal.

This plan proposed reforms and some tough medicine, but it did not sacrifice the future.

Instead it protected the future by emphasizing education and research.

From these leaders we have learned to have a dream...to have perseverance...to be honest about our situation....and to have a plan to move forward.

Like these leaders, we must overcome the challenges of the present.

We must turn our challenges into opportunities.

Each of you has come here to do your best for your district and the people you represent.

Some of you are returning for your final term as a state senator or state representative.

You have a unique opportunity to offer wisdom, experience, and knowledge to help us meet the most challenging budgetary situation faced by our state since the Great Depression.

Many of you are here for the very first time.

Never before have these chambers had such an influx of new faces.

And for the first time in years, we have a divided government...with one party controlling the executive branch and another controlling the legislature.

Cynics might say that this kind of divided government cannot work.

For the sake of the people of the State of Missouri, I say it must!

I welcome your energy and enthusiasm.

I welcome your new ideas.

To each and every one of you, I want to reiterate what I said November 7th, following your election.

I want to work with anyone - Democrat or Republican, veteran legislator or freshman - who comes here to help move our state forward.

We must all remember why the voters sent us here.

In the weeks ahead, you will hear a lot about bills and amendments, hearings and caucuses, appropriations and withholdings, and thousands of other things.

But at the end of the day, our work isn't about any of that.

Our work is about people.

Our work is about those people back home who have put their trust in us.

This job is about what we can do to help our citizens live decent lives and help our children grow up safe, well educated, and ready to work.

It is about providing jobs for our workers and helping our seniors retire in dignity.

The citizens of Missouri look to us for all these things.

They look to you and me to lead through challenging economic times.

Some may think that we must stop dead in our tracks in our efforts to make Missouri a better place to learn, work, and live.

Some may think our days of progress are over.

I reject that!

In tough times, it is more important than ever that we continue to lead and to achieve.

Let's look at all we have accomplished.

In the past two years, we increased funding for education at the elementary and secondary level, while 17 other states chose to cut funding for education.

We've made real progress in our schools.

Reading scores are up.

ACT scores are up.

Our school dropout rate is down.

We have doubled the number of teachers who are nationally board certified.

We've added character education programs and accountability programs.

We now have individual school report cards and parents can go on-line to see how their child's school sizes up.

At our universities, we've increased support for life sciences because we know this is the key to our future knowledge-based economy.

We passed landmark legislation to improve health care for women.

We have continued our MC+ for Kids program, providing health care for previously uninsured children.

And we've done something the federal government has failed to do - we passed a prescription drug plan for our seniors.

We've made all these accomplishments while maintaining our Triple A bond rating.

Only seven other states have such a high rating.

This top rating means the financial market has the highest confidence in our management ability.

We were the first state in the nation to create an Office of Homeland Security.

I pulled together leaders from many different professions - health, emergency services, transportation, and law enforcement - to improve security at every level.

Because of their work, we have already seen improvements in communications and law enforcement and emergency response efforts that will serve us well in a variety of situations.

We have accomplished all of these things, while keeping the budget in balance, as our constitution requires.

Now is not the time to turn back.

JOBS AND THE ECONOMY

As we look to the future, our single most important priority can be summed up in one word - "jobs".

We must make every effort both to hold on to our good jobs and to move our state more rapidly into the new "knowledge-based economy" of the future.

As you know, the current national economy has not produced a net gain of even one single job during the last two years.

In fact, there has been a net loss of jobs nationally.

In Missouri we must put together a job stimulus effort that makes the right choices that will pay off for the long term.

I am proposing several actions today to help Missouri hold on to good paying manufacturing jobs and to help our state plan for the future.

First, I am calling for a one-percentage point reduction in the corporate tax rate.

If we make certain all businesses pay their fair share, we can broaden our tax base, and we can provide some stimulus to small businesses and all those good corporate citizens in Missouri who are working hard and paying their fair share.

Reducing the corporate tax rate will provide support for Missouri businesses in a time of economic challenge with the goal of growing the economy and creating jobs.

Second, I want to provide the right incentives to protect the right jobs already in Missouri.

Currently, our economic incentive programs primarily concentrate on attracting new businesses to our state.

We must tailor more of our incentives to retain good companies already in Missouri.

It makes no sense to offer incentives to attract companies to Missouri that provide low paying jobs, while Missouri employers with higher wages may be looking elsewhere.

We will insist these incentives be tied to important capital investments such as retooling or investing in new technologies.

In St. Louis alone, this change would help protect the jobs of about 2,600 people with salaries averaging over $60,000 a year at the Hazelwood Ford Plant.

Missouri's economic future also depends on a quality total transportation system.

However, the public has expressed a lack of confidence in the current structure, and we cannot address under funding until we address accountability.

That is why I am proposing a constitutional amendment that would transfer responsibility for managing the department to the Governor, effective 2005.

If we are to move forward on transportation, the public must know whom to hold accountable.

Finally, we must make Missouri a leader in the new "knowledge-based" economy of the future.

The critical foundation of this effort - the key to Missouri's future is - and must always be - education.

Improving education in our state is the most important step we can take to provide better opportunities for our children and to improve our climate for the knowledge-based economy.

And as we advance to the economy of the future, our investment in higher education becomes even more important.

Investments made in our universities...made when our economy was stronger...were the right investments to make.

Missouri is now poised to move forward in the knowledge-based economy by focusing on innovation and the critical areas of the life sciences, advanced manufacturing, and information technology.

But to quote the Chancellor at the University of Missouri - Columbia, it takes a long time to build up a major research university - one that contributes to our economy and one that competes with other major universities.

And just a short time to tear one down.

Support for our universities is an investment in the jobs of the future.

And that is why I also urge all businesses and corporations in this state to strengthen their commitment to higher education.

Because, if you are in business in Missouri, the benefits of a strong higher education system flow directly to you - from the quality of your future workforce to the research that provides advances in agriculture, technology, life sciences, biotechnology, and advanced manufacturing.

I am taking two steps to strengthen the link between our businesses and higher education.

I am appointing a Commission on the Future of Higher Education.

This voluntary commission will make recommendations on how we can find ways to strengthen the link between higher education and economic growth in our state, how we can improve higher education overall in Missouri, and identify any new funding sources for our colleges and universities.

Second, I have called for a new alliance between businesses and our universities.

I have asked leaders in higher education and in the private sector to create the Research Alliance of Missouri to coordinate research and provide more access to technology for Missouri businesses.

They start their work today.

By these two steps, we can better direct and connect higher education and the economy.

We must make our colleges, universities, and technical schools the engines that fuel our economy of the future.

MISSOURI'S CURRENT BUDGET

We must also resolve our budget situation if we are to move our state forward.

Missouri now faces a projected one billion dollar budget shortfall.

Former Governor Ashcroft's budget director has briefed business leaders in this state to help them better understand the significance of this shortfall.

Perhaps some of you have seen his presentation, in which he points out that only $6.8 billion of our budget is state general revenue.

The remainder of the budget is federal money earmarked for specific services and dedicated state funds such as money for highways.

This $6.8 billion is what you and I directly control.

One half of that goes to education - K-12 and higher education.

The other half goes into critical services for the mentally ill, the disadvantaged, and ensuring public safety.

In fact, more than half of the general revenue funded employees in Missouri state government work in our 24-hour institutions - our prisons, mental health hospitals, veterans homes, and group homes.

A one billion dollar shortfall in a $6.8 billion budget leaves few good options.

We have a challenge...as do forty-five other states.

Time magazine reports that states are facing the most severe budget crisis since World War II.

Our neighbor Kansas, with a budget about half our size, has a $1 billion shortfall over two years.

Our neighbor to the east, Illinois, has a $5 billion deficit.

And California has a $35 billion shortfall.

These examples are telling evidence of the weakness in our national economy.

But knowing that other states share this dilemma does nothing to solve the problems here.

We have to do that ourselves, and it will take a united, focused effort on the part of those in this room today.

It is time for some plain Missouri talk.

To those who suggest we need to cut spending, let me assure you we have...and we will continue to reduce the size of government.

But if we are to be honest, we must acknowledge that already Missouri ranks near the bottom in per capita spending by state government.

In fact, we are 44th in per capita spending.

And if we are to be honest, we must acknowledge the progress we have already made to streamline government.

During the past two years, my administration has done more to reduce the size of government than any other administration - Democrat or Republican - in recent history.

In two years, we have cut $900 million from the budget and more than 1,000 state jobs to meet the constitutional obligation of keeping the budget balanced.

Last week I approved additional withholdings just to keep our budget balanced through the end of June.

Because of declining revenue due to the national economy, we still have a shortfall in this year's budget, which ends June 30.

One of your first orders of business in this session must be to approve an appropriation for the securitization of the tobacco settlement.

Without this action, deep cuts in education and other vital services will be necessary.

I trust you will see the wisdom of following through and implementing tobacco securitization, as you overwhelmingly approved it last year.

Despite all these efforts, we still have a one billion dollar shortfall next year.

Today I am announcing my plan to meet both our constitutional responsibility to balance the budget and our civic responsibility to provide for the well being of our citizens.

We have combed the budget...department by department...program by program...line by line...looking for savings.

The actions I am announcing today will bring the total reductions I have had to make to $1.1 billion.

We are making every appropriate effort to cover next year's shortfall, reduce the size of government, and live within our means.

But, to cover the shortfall in cuts alone would require making one billion dollars in additional reductions.

And would require actions that you and I cannot accept.

Some states already have resorted to such actions.

More than 100 school districts in seven states...states like Arkansas and Colorado...are now shutting down their public schools one day a week.

In California, the Governor has called for reductions in health care spending that will deny service to at least 209,000 needy people.

Kentucky has released 567 prison inmates.

This is a road I am not willing to take.

Members of this General Assembly: we are at a crossroads in this state.

We can take the road of the one billion dollar cut - which leads us backward.

This road leads to deep cuts in education, massive layoffs, and significant cuts to vital state services.

Or we can take a better road...the road forward.

One that continues our progress to streamline government, but one that protects and maintains critical services and also leads us to a brighter future.

We can take a road that provides better opportunities for our children and the job producing economy of the future.

Today I am calling on you to take the second road by embracing a new budget plan...one I call the Fair Share Plan.

FAIR SHARE BUDGET

I began discussion of this new plan with legislative leaders last September.

Then I went to other locations throughout the state to share my concerns about the budget with our citizens and to seek their input.

Time and time again, these Missourians told me they did not want vital services cut.

And time and time again, they recognized that an investment in education is an investment in jobs.

The people of Missouri have said they want their priorities funded.

Today I come to you with a plan that protects those priorities...one that continues our efforts to reduce the size of government, but one that does not sacrifice our future.

One important element of this Fair Share Budget is to close special interest loopholes that do nothing to grow our economy.

The vast majority of Missouri businesses do not benefit from these special breaks, which create a larger tax burden for the rest of our businesses.

And eliminating them is long overdue.

Some of these loopholes are blatantly unfair and were simply written to carve out breaks for special interests.

Some were well intentioned at one time, but have now outlived their usefulness.

And some were simply bad ideas or poorly written.

Many tax lawyers and accountants have developed a good eye for spotting gray areas of our law.

There's nothing illegal about that.

But I am reminded of W.C. Fields, who once said that his purpose for reading the Bible was to look for loopholes.

Tax advisors for special interests read the law the same way.

We have given them way too much easy reading.

My staff and I have spent the last four months working with business leaders and economists across this state.

Together we have identified a number of loopholes that should be closed.

For example, one of these loopholes allows national franchises to avoid paying corporate income taxes in Missouri by setting up dummy corporations in states that charge no corporate tax.

National franchises get this tax break, while the local hardware stores and corner drugstores pay their fair share.

Twenty-five other states, including our neighbor Illinois, have already closed this loophole, which costs Missouri millions every year.

Another Missouri tax loophole exempts royalties, dividends, and interest income Missouri businesses receive from their out-of-state interests.

This is essentially income that is not taxed anywhere.

This money is generated by corporate activity in our state and should be treated like other Missouri income.

We are the only state in the nation to offer this break, and it is costing us $31 million every year.

When small Missouri businesses and working families see these perks that have been carved out for a few, their confidence in the fairness of our government is eroded.

They know that special interest tax loopholes are the worst form of wasteful spending.

By making these changes in our laws, we restore equity to our system, and we will generate revenue to allow us to meet our goals for the future.

Closing loopholes will allow us to make the one-percentage point corporate tax rate reduction we need to stimulate our economy.

It does not put an undue burden on any corporation to pay the taxes that most Missouri businesses have been paying all along.

But even when we close these loopholes, we will still be left with a major revenue hole in the budget.

Therefore, I am proposing that we increase the admission fee on gaming boats by $2.00, raise the gross receipt tax by two percent, and eliminate loss limits.

These steps will protect the school foundation formula from cuts.

I will also seek a cigarette tax dedicated to health care.

But in this proposal, the money will be needed to protect existing health care needs, including health care for our low-income elderly.

I propose these two revenue increases - gaming fees and cigarette taxes - as an alternative to a general tax.

These are optional taxes that most citizens won't have to pay.

Finally, I propose a five-percent surcharge on individual income tax on households making more than $200,000 a year.

This proposal will only affect two percent of Missourians.

Changing our tax structure is never easy.

But responsible leadership demands such action.

My Fair Share Budget guarantees needed revenue but not at the expense of the majority of the working families of Missouri, who already pay their fair share.

If implemented, these actions will prevent deep cuts.

My plan ensures that we continue toward a goal of a leaner state government.

But I do not want it to be a meaner state government.

I know we must make additional savings.

This is one of the toughest budgets that has ever been proposed.

We have made major cuts, and they have been painful.

And we will continue to make cuts.

But we cannot cut and cut alone.

We cannot cut ourselves out of this hole without sacrificing our future and our economy.

We cannot cut ourselves out of this hole without hurting our most vulnerable citizens.

In fact, we must strengthen our resolve to protect our foster care children.

This past fall I ordered an investigation of our foster care program, and as a result, I have ordered a restructuring of the program and several personnel changes.

I have proposed a new children's division in the Department of Social Services and an ombudsman to investigate complaints and monitor children's services.

And the budget I present today prevents cuts in funding for children in state custody.

We must also strengthen our resolve to protect our elderly.

I am proposing tougher laws to protect the elderly in our nursing homes.

This is the opportunity to show our elderly we are on their side.

We must pass the Senior Care and Protection Act.

And we must strengthen our resolve to support another group of good Missourians who deserve our support...our state workers.

Missouri state workers have not had a cost of living pay increase in two years.

Regrettably, our budget crisis means we cannot fund an across the board increase this year.

But my budget does include an early retirement plan for state workers, which would save $24 million, and allow us to provide a modest increase of $600 annually to state workers who make less than $40,000.

This increase would be directed to those on the front line of service.

These are the workers who provide the security in our prisons, the assistance in our schools for the blind and the deaf, and the care in our state hospitals.

Time and time again, I have expressed to them my appreciation.

But praise and thanks do not put food on the table.

As we begin this new 2003 legislative session, I want to again welcome all new legislators of both parties.

I want to reiterate my commitment to work with you to govern our state responsibly.

On the opening day of this legislative session, much attention was given in both chambers to the problems we face as Missourians and much was said about what we want for Missourians.

But not one idea was put forward as to how we achieve these goals.

What Missourians expect from us is neither rhetoric nor a partisan battle over whether we have a revenue problem or a spending problem.

What Missourians expect from us is leadership and solutions.

I come to you today with solutions...solutions that meet our constitutional duty to produce a balanced budget and still preserve the key services Missourians expect state government to provide.

Your responsibility now is to send me a balanced budget.

But let me be clear as this process begins:

I will not sign a budget that cuts one billion dollars.

A budget balanced on the backs of hard working Missouri families is not acceptable.

I will not consider a plan that destroys an opportunity for quality public education for all our children...nor will I tolerate schemes to steal money from our poor schools and our rural schools to fund our richest schools.

I will not sit on the sidelines and let our legislative leaders try to pit higher education against elementary and secondary education.

We are all in this together.

Such actions would violate our duty to our children and their future.

And I will not accept a plan that hurts our working families and turns our back on our most vulnerable - our elderly, our disabled, or our children in foster care.

KEEPING FAITH WITH THE FUTURE

Today I am submitting a Fair Share Budget that provides a solution to our one billion dollar deficit.

But it requires us to work together with resolve.

This budget requires continued cuts...but not cuts that sacrifice our priorities.

This plan is a solution to our one billion dollar deficit for fiscal year 2004.

This is a budget that allows us to keep faith with the future.

Our great leaders of the past kept faith with the future.

Dr. King did not wallow in the valley of despair.

Instead he focused on the dream for a better tomorrow.

Harry Truman did not abandon the future.

In fact, it is said that Truman, from the time of his high school graduation, kept in his wallet these lines by the great poet Tennyson:

"For I dipped into the future, far as the human eye could see, saw the Vision of the world...all the wonder that could be."

Our challenges today pale in comparison to those faced by our parents and grandparents - who fought our great wars, survived the Great Depression, and worked long and hard every day of their lives.

They kept faith with the future by investing in education, in the interstate highway system, in engineering and medical research and space exploration.

We have a commitment to our parents...to our children...and our grandchildren.

Our future demands that we embrace the economy of tomorrow by making the right investments now.

As we deal with the realities of today, we must keep our faith with the future.

We must look ahead as far as the eye can see...to find a vision for our state...and all the wonder it can be.

Thank you.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Madam Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SCR 1, entitled:

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for an increase in compensation for the affected public officials in the amount of 5.8% and an increase for judges in the amount of $6,000 per year; and

WHEREAS, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Missouri Commission on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal year 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly believes that public officials and judges should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefor may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we hereby reject the Compensation Schedule of the 2002 Report and Compensation Schedule of the Missouri Citizens Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials dated, November 27, 2002.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 2003

Representative Holand in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, even as it is written, "The Lord looks down from Heaven on the entire human race" so may You look upon us this day.

In the frailty of our existence we approach You asking of Your wisdom and insight.

Clothe us with Your deliberate plan for this day, not stampeded by the urgency of thought or the frenzied pursuit of our own plans. Let the powerful simplicity of Your order and control; direct our hearts, our minds, and our hopes.

Guide our steps so that we may not devise our own ways.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with us all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 2003

Representative Miller in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, God of grace and mercy, even as it is written , “I will bless the Lord who has counseled me” so may we receive Your counsel this morning.

You have purposed us in Your love; therefore, we prosper by Your grace and by Your mercy.

May we gain new points of balance in our understanding.

In Your mercy, enlarge our awareness and viewpoint.

Father, as we conduct the necessary business of this day, may new details of Your truth be opened or deepened in our minds.

May we quickly respond to Your guidance.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

COMMITTEE REPORT

Committee on Rules, Chairman Crowell reporting:

Madam Speaker: Your Committee on Rules, to which was referred HCR 6, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for an increase in compensation for the affected public officials in the amount of 5.8% and an increase for judges in the amount of $6,000 per year; and

Whereas, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Missouri Commission on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal year 2004; and

Whereas, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

Whereas, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

Whereas, the General Assembly believes that public officials and judges should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

Whereas, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefor may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that we hereby reject the Compensation Schedule of the 2002 Report and Compensation Schedule of the Missouri Citizens Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials dated, November 27, 2002.

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Creator of all things, as it is written: In dealing with faithful people You are faithful, with innocent people You are innocent, with pure people You are pure, and with devious people You are discerning, even so deal with us, this day, according to Your faithfulness, Your innocence, Your purity, and with understanding.

We recognize that we are accountable to You for our decisions and acts, therefore we look to You for wisdom, knowledge, and understanding.

May You grant us help in these trying times. May You grant our heart's desire to find solutions to tough issues.

The Speaker appointed the following committee to escort the Honorable Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr., Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court to the dais: Representatives Smith (14), Munzlinger, Dethrow, Angst, Ruestman, Brown, Johnson (61), Johnson (90), Meiners and Meredeth.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr., Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court. Chief Justice Limbaugh was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

By

Chief Justice Stephen N. Limbaugh, Jr.

January 22, 2003

Lieutenant Governor Maxwell, President Pro Tem Kinder, Speaker Hanaway, distinguished members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Let me begin with introductions of two of my colleagues on the Supreme Court. The first is Judge Richard Teitelman, our newest judge, who took office last March, after three years of service on the Court of Appeals in St. Louis, and 18 years as a legal aid lawyer, selflessly representing low-income citizens. Although Judge Teitelman is sight-impaired, he compensates by working day and night, with little sleep, and as the other judges will tell you, his caseload is the most current on the Court. In addition, he brings a personal kindness and graciousness that enhances the collegiality of a Court that already prides itself on its collegiality.

The other introduction is my friend Judge Ronnie White, who, on July 1, will take over my duties as chief justice as I complete my two-year rotation and he begins his. One hundred fifty years after Missouri's landmark Dred Scott case, which precipitated the Civil War, and in turn, the end of slavery, and the struggle for civil rights that followed, it is high time that an African-American is represented in the office of Chief Justice. And to that, I add that Judge White will be the first chief justice in 34 years who also has served in the legislature.

Last year at this time, you greeted me warmly, and many of you expressed to me that you appreciated my emphasis on the honor of public service. But it was also clear that my speech was well received because I didn't ask for money! Nor will I ask for money this year, knowing that the budget crisis is even worse. There is one exception: For the 3,000 or so court employees - court clerks and secretaries and juvenile officers - the people who staff the courthouses in our 114 counties and the City of St. Louis, the people who are the public's first and sometimes most critical contact with the court system, the people who keep the court records and process the data in the computers and who assist lawyers and litigants and the general public alike, the people who collect and process the myriad of fees and fines and child support payments and the like, the people who over years of dedicated service have worked themselves up a state pay grid that starts at just $17,000 per year, the people who for two years running have not had a raise in pay and whose take-home pay has actually been reduced because of increased insurance premiums - for those people I ask your help. I ask nothing for judges, but I ask you to find the means to help those whose work allows the judges to administer justice.

In view of the budget crisis, the Court is attempting to fashion its own proactive solutions by securing alternative sources of funding for one of its most important administrative efforts, the ongoing and immensely successful court automation program. For those of you who are new to the General Assembly, the court automation program is, in a word, the "computerization" of the judicial system, and its purpose is to give courts greater capacity to manage caseloads, to provide the general public with instant access to all public court records, and to improve essential communication between courts, law enforcement agencies, and other executive branch entities. The infrastructure has been completed statewide, and case management software is being used in about half of the courts. Although the original intent was to bring the remaining courts into the statewide system within the next few years, budget cuts have placed the program on hold. One exception is the 16th Judicial Circuit in Jackson County which, after a review of the several case management software programs throughout the country, decided to invest its own funds to expand its use of the state system. In fact, this alternative funding approach, which does not require state general revenue, has potential for other urban circuits as well, such as the City of St. Louis, where talks are underway for implementation of a project similar to that in Kansas City.

Some of you, particularly those who are lawyers, may have used the system's Internet access called Case.Net, which is built on the case management software, and know full well that the promise of the court automation program - instant electronic access to court records open to the public - is now being met. The rest of you will find that you can access with ease everything from the courts' docket entries in any given case, to a judge's entire court calendar. And, for me, as one whose computer skills are far from proficient, the true test of the product is that even I can use it!

The Case.Net system was not the work of any vendor, but the result of the creativity and ingenuity of the employees of the Office of State Courts Administrator. You should know, too, that that creativity and ingenuity has been recognized on a national level. Just last summer, Case.Net received the "Best of Breed Award" from the Center for Digital Government, a think-tank of experts in the use of information technology at all levels of government. Indeed, Case.Net was one of 30 programs selected from more than 1,500 entries nationwide. Additionally, we recently received word that the court automation program was designated as a Computerworld Honors Program Laureate. This prestigious award means that the court automation program will be on file and available for study at such renowned institutions as Oxford, Harvard, MIT, and the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American History.

To be sure, the automation of the courts, which the legislature has strongly supported over the years, is bearing fruit for our Missouri citizens and serves as a model for the country. We are especially grateful to Senator Klindt and Representative Crowell, who have attended nearly every meeting of the statutory court automation committee since their appointment and who provide invaluable legislative input and oversight.

If the crisis with the budget is the most pressing concern of the General Assembly, the crisis in juvenile justice undoubtedly will command a good deal of your attention as well. At the outset, it is our pledge that we, the judges of this state, will do all in our power to correct the failures in the system whether or not those failures are of our own making. Investigations into alleged mishandling of juvenile court cases have been conducted by both the Governor's office and the Senate, and the reports have been submitted. A third investigation - a DFS performance audit by State Auditor Claire McCaskill - is pending, and I am grateful to her for affording me a preview of her findings. Although most of the focus has been on the Division of Family Services, I regret that in certain cases we judges have come under fire for being heavy-handed in the removal of children from their homes, for failing to provide timely hearings to the parents and families of those children who have been removed, and for failing to require the communication and cooperation between the courts and DFS necessary to protect the children. Whether the truth of the allegations is perception or reality, the unfortunate result, of course, is public distrust and a lack of confidence in the system.

Now that investigations have been made and problems have been identified, it is time for solutions. I ask, however, that those solutions be informed by the perspective of our judges - those who are the ultimate decision-makers - and that you keep in mind that many of the cases heard are exceedingly difficult and emotionally draining. In that regard, the nature of the complaints themselves point out the difficulty. On one hand, the charge is that judges too often remove kids unnecessarily; on the other hand, the charge is that too often kids are not removed soon enough. The fact is, in many cases, the evidence is conflicting - not so much in the determination that the children are subject to harm, but in the determination of who or what is the cause of the harm, and, more importantly, in the determination of how best to prevent the continued harm. I hope you understand why most judges tend to err on the side of protecting the kids.

I speak from my own hard experience as a prosecutor and former juvenile court judge. In those positions, one learns quickly of the unfathomable cruelty that can be inflicted on children. There is outrage against the perpetrators, and anguish and empathy for the victims, and a troubling sense of wonder that such cruelty can exist in our affluent and progressive society. I will not forget the awful details of the last case of child abuse I tried as a prosecutor. A six-year old boy had been locked alone in the basement of a house in Cape Girardeau by the boy's mother and her boyfriend, who then left the house for a weekend jaunt out of state. The basement had carpet, but no furniture, and there were two windows that were too high for the boy to reach, although they allowed him to hear the neighbor kids playing outside. He was given a blanket, a package of Twinkies and a soda, a couple of toys, and nothing else. If you have a sense of pity for the child in that makeshift prison, imagine the horror in his little eyes when the house caught fire. Though the house burned to the ground, a fireman-hero rescued the boy, unconscious and on the verge of death. On the operating table at the local hospital, physicians worked feverishly to resuscitate the boy, extricating gobs of white ash and black soot from his mouth and nose and throat, but as they were bringing him back to life, they were doubly alarmed at his pencil-thin arms and legs and his bloated belly. And sure enough, the secondary diagnosis was "failure to thrive," doctor's jargon for malnutrition. Miraculously, the boy survived and last heard is doing well in a placement overseas with his father's family. The mother was sentenced to time in the county jail, and the boyfriend, the main perpetrator, went to prison.

This case was not typical, but only because of the devastating fire. To the extent that cases can be characterized as typical, they most often involve children living with their unwed mother who is drug-addicted or alcoholic, barely functional and who is frequented by boyfriends who are abusive to her and her children both. In more cases than not, the fathers are unknown, absent, in jail, or are themselves drug-addicted, alcoholic and barely functional. The children in those typical cases are clearly in danger. The salvation is that when the authorities are notified of the situation, and the system works properly, the children will be removed and placed in a nurturing and loving foster-care setting, and the lucky ones eventually will be adopted out.

In many other cases, however, the evidence is equivocal and the dispositions unsure. I recall, in particular, a case I had as a juvenile court judge involving an 18-year old woman - an 18-year old girl - who already had five children by five different fathers. This is no exaggeration! She was not a drug addict or an alcoholic, nor did she abuse her kids or allow others to harm them, at least physically, and those facts dictated against removing the kids. But her home was a revolving door for boyfriends who were often drugged or drunken, and she and the kids survived on little more than food stamps, Medicaid, and family housing subsidies. She had few parenting skills, just an eighth-grade education, and no relatives she could count on, and, as you would expect, most of the time she was rather desperate. DFS efforts to teach parenting skills and household management were only marginally successful. Under any conception of "the best interests of the children" - the legal standard by which all court interventions are governed - the children should have been removed. And from time to time, they were removed, and more than once at the request of the mother, herself. The likelihood was that those kids would flourish in most any other environment, and that they would only fail with their mother. But a competing presumption of law in effect at the time of the case required all-out efforts for reunification of the family - which meant that the kids stayed with the mother. Under the law, then as now, kids are to be taken from their homes only if they are abused or neglected, not if the parents are poor and uneducated. And so it was, that for many months, until I left for my new position on the Supreme Court, I supported the rather valiant efforts of the juvenile officers and DFS workers on the outside chance that the young mother might eventually learn to adequately care for her own children.

Late yesterday afternoon, as I was finalizing my remarks, and realizing that my recollection of the young girl's case may be unduly harsh, I called Randy Rhodes, the chief juvenile officer in Cape Girardeau, to check my facts. Randy had been the juvenile officer assigned to the case, and he confirmed that my account of the case was accurate. As we finished the conversation, I asked, in passing, "Whatever happened to the girl?" To my surprise, he said that he saw her just a couple of weeks ago. And he told me this: Ten and a half years, and two more kids later, she is alive and well, she is stable and relatively self-supporting, and she has a job - a full-time job! - a job working for a sheriff's department across the river in Illinois, and even the kids have enjoyed a fair measure of success!

My goodness, how would it be if all the other families like hers fared half so well! But in my experience, unfortunately it is not that way. There are many failures, and the successful preservation of families, at least in the extreme cases like hers, is more the exception than the rule.

I have been on the bench for more than 15 years, and for 10 of those years, I have served on the Supreme Court, hearing the difficult, complex, and immensely important legal issues of the day. But the most difficult cases I have faced are child custody cases in the juvenile and family courts, the cases in which I was required to determine whether to favor one parent over another, or whether to take the kids from both. It was a time in my career that I relied on the sage advice of one of my predecessors in office, Judge Stanley Grimm, who capsulized the law in this unique way: He told me that a judge can take kids only from parents who rate a failing grade, not from parents who rate a D-. Too often, as I learned from the case of the 18-year old woman with five children, the difference between a D- and an F is murky and muddled, but the call must be made, and one hopes and prays that the children will be free from harm and somehow given a fair shake.

From these accounts and countless others like them, I hope you understand that there are so many pitiful and seemingly hopeless cases, cases that simply have no good answers, and that even with all the resources our society has to offer, and even with all the wisdom in the world, mistakes will be made, and tragedies will occur.

Agree with me on this proposition: When mistakes are made and when tragedies occur, the only acceptable response is to redouble our efforts to ensure that, in the future, decisions regarding the fate of our children are indeed made with all the resources we have to offer and all the wisdom we can muster.

Because we judges are the ultimate decision-makers in the cases, it is incumbent on us to take the lead. To that end, and with the blessing and encouragement of Senate President Pro Tem Kinder and House Speaker Hanaway and Governor Holden, himself, I am pleased to announce the formation of a commission composed primarily of judges and legislators, but also including key executive branch officials and other interested parties, to address the concerns raised in the several investigations, to review proposed legislative solutions, and to propose legislative changes of its own. The judges of this state ask that through the work of this commission, they be given input in the legislative process. We ask not to direct any legislation, but only that you hear our concerns, as we strive to hear yours, and we submit to you that the healthy interaction between judges and legislators, between representatives of co-equal branches of government, is the best way to yield the best product for our mutual constituents, our children.

There is precedent for this collaboration. In 1994, there was a crisis in juvenile justice that centered on juvenile delinquency rather than abused and neglected kids. The crisis then was born of a nationwide increase in juvenile crime coupled with the perception and, in some cases, the reality, that kids who committed crimes were going both unpunished and unrehabilitated. Just as today, people were wary of the system because of the secrecy of the proceedings. To meet that challenge, the Court, in cooperation with the General Assembly and the Department of Social Services, formed the Supreme Court Task Force on Children and Families, and just as today, the charge was to review proposed legislation and to propose legislation on its own. With helpful suggestions from the Task Force, the resulting enactments brought into better balance the competing interests of protecting society from juvenile offenders and offering those offenders, because of their tender age, a chance at redemption and rehabilitation. The rules on confidentiality were lifted in the more serious cases to provide for public scrutiny, and the rules for certification of youthful offenders to stand trial as adults were strengthened to make those offenders more accountable. At the beginning of the process, the legislative proposals were, as they say, "all over the board", but the legislation that was enacted was consensus legislation. It was legislation that was hailed at the time and that since has proven its worth. It has brought stability and respect, and has increased the public's trust and confidence in the system. In fact, the juvenile delinquency side of the juvenile justice system and especially the innovative programs of the Division of Youth Services under its longtime director Mark Steward, are among the finest in the nation. It is that performance and reputation that we must bring to the abuse and neglect side of the system. That is the aim of our new commission.

Senator Kinder and Speaker Hanaway are so enthused about the project that they have appointed themselves to the commission! The other members are Senators Bill Foster and Pat Dougherty, and Representatives Bryan Stevenson and Yvonne Wilson. The chair of the commission is Judge John C. Holstein of Springfield, who, as most of you know, is a former judge and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and, more importantly, is a former judge of the juvenile court in West Plains, Missouri. Judge Holstein, would you please stand? Because time is of the essence, the work of the commission will begin immediately, and I mean immediately! Judge Holstein will meet with the legislative members this very afternoon.

In addition to the work of our joint commission, let me emphasize that much can and will be done outside the legislative process. Specifically, I am directing the judiciary to undertake the following measures:

1. We will prepare and publish a best practices manual for juvenile court judges so that we can implement, throughout the state, what we know that works, and I am pleased to advise you that the first portion of the manual is already in circulation;
2. We will promulgate time standards to ensure the timely processing of abuse and neglect cases;
3. We will ensure that whenever possible, children are placed first with qualified relatives before other alternatives are pursued; and this effort, too, already is being undertaken in every one of our juvenile courts;
4. With the cooperation of DFS, we will provide and mandate cross-training for all juvenile officers and DFS caseworkers and even the judges, themselves, so that everyone within the system knows the processes and personalities of each constituent part of the system; and
5. We will look very seriously at opening our court proceedings, at least to some extent, so that there is a better balance between the need to protect the privacy of children and the need to inform the public and shed light on the system.

Finally, so that your difficult legislative decisions will be as informed as possible, I invite you to participate - no, I urge you to participate - in a symposium for legislators sponsored by the Supreme Court and the Missouri Juvenile Justice Association to be held Monday afternoon, February 3, from 3 to 7 p.m., at a local hotel. In recognition of the immediacy and crucial importance of the juvenile justice issues, the legislative leadership has agreed to call you into session at 2 p.m. on that Monday afternoon, to do the necessary business at hand, and then to adjourn before 3 p.m., so that each of you can attend. Professor Douglas Abrams of the University of Missouri-Columbia, School of Law will begin with a brief history of the tragedies and triumphs of Missouri's juvenile courts. A copy of Professor Abrams' new book - "A Very Special Place in Life" - which commemorates the 100th anniversary of the founding of the juvenile courts in this state, will be distributed to you at that time. Four of our juvenile and family court judges will then present the main program, complete with flow charts and handouts of pertinent statutes and an assortment of other useful materials. Each judge will focus on a different part of the system - cases involving abuse and neglect, cases involving what we call "status offenses" (runaways, truant and the like), cases involving juvenile delinquency, and the special extracurricular activities of our judges that are designed to reach children before they need to be admitted to the system in the first place. At 5 p.m., each of you will be assigned to one of six breakout groups organized by geographic region and staffed by your local juvenile court judges and juvenile officers, as well as local DFS, DYS and DMH caseworkers. For the next hour, you will be encouraged to ask questions and offer your suggestions about the system in general and about local implementation in particular. Following the breakout sessions, the Missouri Bar will sponsor an hour-long reception at the hotel to further the networking opportunities for all participants. By engaging in this dialogue and by opening the lines of communication, it is our profound hope, that at the end of the day, we can better respond to your concerns, and thus better serve our children.

To conclude, despite the current challenges, you will learn from Professor Abrams' book that Missouri has become a national leader in many social reforms that have served and continue to serve the best interests of children and, indeed, Missouri boasts a remarkable heritage of leadership and innovation that forms the perfect foundation for our actions today and in the future. To build on that rich heritage, we must cooperate and collaborate. We must find ourselves on the same page. We must have a common understanding of the problems. We must devote our full resources to the solutions. And together, we must win the day for our children.

And why this common commitment? It is because our goal is the same. Our goal is the same! And it is simply this: A safe home, and a loving family, for every child.

Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Gibbons.

Speaker Hanaway resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 2003

Representative Crawford in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God of the dreams and the plans and the goals behind our busy lives, on this cold blustery day we place ourselves in Your gaze. Survey this Chamber and stir those who serve here.

Provide these representatives abundantly with the warmth of Your presence, that these, Your servants and Your children, may build up this state, one more day by one more day, into a fitting reflection of Your justice, benevolence, peace, and compassion. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Thomas Crank and R. Samuel Braden.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 2003

Representative King in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, loving God, we begin a new legislative week today. This sovereign state counts on Your collaboration with these representatives, as they continue to put into practice the trust the people have put in them. May Your wisdom illumine the intellects of these men and women.

May Your spirit brood over any troubled waters or moral chaos bringing clarity of right and goodness. May Your stance of courage, principle, mortification, and indifference to reputation inform and direct the activities of their minds and hearts.

You promise to be with those who put their trust in You. So we claim Your presence here and today. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ann Flood.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ELEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, our Hope and Joy, it is written, "As for God, His way is blameless and the Word of our Lord is dependable" so may we be blameless and our word dependable.

Dear Lord, we stand here dwarfed by the magnitude of the job at hand, but in awe of the vastness of Your wisdom and provision.

May our hearts and minds be kept under the protection and power of Your peace and fixed against anxiety or weariness.

Father, as we begin this day, may we be flexible: freed from pettiness, combativeness, and rigidity.

Give us wisdom, discernment, and clarity of thought as we tackle the important tasks ahead.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God, be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Danielle Warner, Matthew Hamblin, David Breed, Jonathan Breed, Anna Guthrie, Maggie Winkelmann, Ben Ogawa, Shaunece Ballenger and Kathleen Reeves.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as printed.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 180

RULE 2. Definitions

As used in these Rules, unless the context requires otherwise, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings, and the use of masculine gender shall include the feminine.

(1) Censure - A sanction which recognizes the respondent's conduct constituted a legal or moral wrong, and which shall include punishment in the form of denying privileges of office, which recommendation is included as part of the committee's report and requires the presence of the respondent in the chamber during consideration and vote by the entire House on such resolution.

(2) Letter of Reproval - A sanction which expresses disapproval of conduct based on the appropriateness of such conduct by a legislator, regardless of whether the conduct constitutes a legal or moral wrong and is included as part of the committee's report.

(3) Reprimand - A sanction which recognizes the respondent's conduct constituted a legal or moral wrong and which may include punishment in the form of denying privileges of the office, which recommendation is included as part of the committee's report, is issued by the Speaker and the recommendation for reprimand is made a public record.

RULE 3. Quorum

A quorum exists when a majority of the members of the Committee are present.

RULE 4. Form of Complaints

A. All complaints filed with the Speaker against a member of the House shall be made by a member. The complaints shall be confidential and shall be referred to the Committee on Ethics within ten (10) days and shall be in writing and under oath, setting forth in simple, concise and direct statements:

(1) The name and legal address of the member or members acting as complainant;

(2) The name of the member of the House alleged to have engaged in the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office or other acts constituting ethical misconduct. "Misconduct" means:

(a) Any conduct constituting a legal or moral wrong which materially impairs the member's ability to perform the duties of his office or substantially impairs public confidence in the General Assembly;

(b) Any conduct constituting a conflict of interest under Chapter 105, RSMo;

(c) The intentional filing of a false complaint or the filing of a complaint in reckless disregard of the truth.

(3) The nature of the alleged crime, misconduct, neglect, corruption or other unethical act, including when applicable, the specific law, rule, regulation or ethical standard violated;

(4) The facts alleged to have given rise to the violation; and

(5) Where the facts are alleged upon the information and belief of the complainant, the complaint shall so state and set forth the basis for such information and belief.

B. All documents in the possession of the complainant that are relevant to and in support of the allegations shall be appended to the complaint.

RULE 5. Initial Examination of the Complaint by the Committee

A. Within thirty (30) days of the assignment of the complaint by the Speaker, the Committee shall determine if it is in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules, and whether on the face of the complaint, the allegations contained therein are within the jurisdiction of the Committee, and if so, whether the allegations merit proceeding to a preliminary hearing. The complainant shall not act as a member of the Committee at a hearing in which the complainant is likely to be called as a necessary witness. A respondent shall not act as a member of the Committee for purposes of his complaint.

B. Complaints determined not to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules shall be returned to the complainant with a general statement that it is not in compliance with the Rules of Procedure. The complaint may be resubmitted in the proper form.

C. Once a determination has been made that the complaint complies with Rule 4 of these Rules, a majority of the Committee appointed shall vote by roll call to either:

(1) Defer action pending completion of any other administrative, disciplinary, commission, or judicial proceeding;

(2) Proceed to a preliminary hearing;

(3) Dismiss the complaint.

D. In determining whether or not to proceed the Committee shall consider the following:

(1) The credible evidence contained in the complaint or appended thereto of the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, or other acts violating applicable ethical standards;

- (2) Other administrative or disciplinary action by other interested bodies;
- (3) Criminal investigation, Missouri Ethics Commission proceeding, or judicial proceedings, either civil or criminal; and
- (4) Other relevant circumstances that would justify expediting, declining or deferring action by the Committee.

E. Complaints determined to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules and accepted for a preliminary hearing shall be transmitted to the respondent with a copy of the Rules of Procedure and notice in writing that the respondent has twenty-one (21) calendar days to respond to the complaint either by way of answer or motion pursuant to Rule 6 of these Rules. The complainant shall also be notified, in writing, of the action of the Committee. Examination of the complaint and the determination of Rule 5.C. shall be conducted in a closed meeting.

RULE 6. Answers and Motions

A. If the Committee determines that the complaint merits proceeding to a preliminary hearing, the respondent shall have twenty-one (21) calendar days in which to respond to the complaint by way of answer or motion, unless this time period is waived by the respondent. Any answer or motion shall be in writing, signed by the respondent and his counsel, if he has one, and shall be limited to the following:

- (1) An admission or denial under oath, of the allegations set forth in the complaint, including negative and affirmative defenses, and any other relevant information, including supporting evidence which the respondent may desire to submit;
- (2) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Committee to investigate the complaint; or
- (3) An objection to the participation of any member of the Committee in an investigation of the complaint on the grounds that the member cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision in the case. The majority of the members present shall rule on the objection to the participation of any member of the Committee. A temporary replacement shall be made to serve on the Committee on Ethics for all actions concerning a particular complaint for any member of the Committee who is prevented from acting on a complaint under these rules.

B. Any motion submitted pursuant to this rule is not in lieu of an answer and shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities. Answers or motions not submitted within the twenty-one (21) calendar-day period shall not be considered by the Committee.

C. The Chairman of the Committee shall pass upon such motions as soon as practicable and notice of the decision shall be furnished to the respondent and the complainant. A motion to quash a subpoena shall be decided by the Chairman of the Committee.

D. Time limitations imposed by this Rule may be extended when, in the discretion of the Chairman, such extension would facilitate a fair and complete inquiry and may be shortened when the Chairman determines that there are special circumstances compelling expedition, and upon twenty-four (24) hours notice of said action to the respondent and the claimant.

E. In the event that a special counsel is retained by the Committee, the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the Committee and not to the House.

RULE 7. Preliminary Hearings

A. A preliminary hearing may be held to hear arguments based on the pleadings submitted in the case. The preliminary hearing shall be an open meeting. The committee shall provide the complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent an opportunity to present, orally or in writing, a statement, which shall be under oath or affirmation, regarding the allegations and any other relevant questions arising out of the pleadings. A Complainant or respondent who is represented by counsel shall not be questioned in the absence of counsel unless an explicit waiver is obtained.

B. The committee shall require that testimony be given under oath or affirmation. The form of the oath or affirmation shall be: “Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?” The oath or affirmation shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths. Members of the committee shall be given an opportunity to question the complainant and respondent or counsel for the complainant or respondent following the opening statements.

C. At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, a majority of the Committee shall vote by roll call to either:

(1) Dismiss the complaint, or

(2) Proceed by

(a) undertaking an investigative hearing; or

(b) deciding the case based upon the preliminary hearing.

A decision based upon a preliminary hearing shall require the consent of the respondent.

D. If the committee decides to make a summary decision of the case and the respondent accepts this disposition the Committee may, by a majority vote, recommend one of the following sanctions:

(1) Letter of reproof;

(2) Reprimand; or

(3) Censure.

RULE 8. Investigative Hearings

A. An investigative hearing may be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may obtain a court-issued subpoena in the event that any person refuses to obey the subpoena issued by the Committee.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the investigative hearing shall be as follows:

(1) The Chairman shall open the hearing by stating the Committee’s authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.

(b) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the respondent;

(c) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the Committee staff; and

(d) Rebuttal witnesses.

(4) The Chairman or his designee shall examine each witness. The Committee members may then question the witness. The respondent or his counsel may then cross-examine the witness. Redirect or recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion. With respect to witnesses offered by the respondent, a witness shall be examined first by the respondent or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the complainant or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the Chairman or his designee. Committee members may then question the witness. Redirect and recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear or affirm that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?" The oath shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths.

RULE 9. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chairman or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chairman or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At an investigative hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he introduces.

RULE 10. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his scheduled appearance to allow him a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chairman, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at investigative hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence. Counsel for a witness other than the respondent shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee. After a witness has testified, his counsel may submit to the Committee, in writing, any questions he wishes propounded to his client and any request for additional witnesses or other evidence. Such request may be granted in the discretion of the Committee.

D. The respondent may apply to the Committee for the issuance of subpoenas for the appearance of witnesses or the production of documents on his behalf. The application shall be granted upon good cause shown by the respondent that the proposed testimony or evidence is relevant and not otherwise available. The application shall be denied if not made at a reasonable time or if the testimony or evidence would be merely cumulative.

E. The respondent is entitled to present witnesses in his behalf. However, the Chairman may limit such testimony when, in his discretion, he finds the testimony is repetitious or cumulative.

F. Each witness subpoenaed by the Committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

G. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

H. Within ten (10) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the Chairman shall notify the respondent, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear before the Committee. Within five (5) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the respondent shall notify the Committee, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear in his behalf. Additional witnesses may be brought before the Committee, in the discretion of the Chairman or other member presiding and upon good cause, if their whereabouts or existence were unknown to the respondent at the time for submission of the witness list to Committee.

RULE 11. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the preliminary hearing or investigative hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reproval if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House:

- (1) Expel the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution;
- (2) Punish the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, by reprimand on the adoption of the resolution, or by censure by the Speaker in open session; or
- (3) Take no further action, stating the reasons therefor.

RULE 12. Matters Not Covered in These Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Standards of Official Conduct of the 108th Congress shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWELFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2003

Speaker Pro Tem Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Our Strength and Shield, it is written: "In You they trusted and were not disappointed," even so we trust and will not be disappointed.

Lord God, we have every bit of confidence that You are working through us to bring about quick and realistic solutions to the unsettled questions at hand.

May we receive the strength to succeed in this position of authority You have given us.

We pray that any form of stumbling or obstacle be removed and a path of clarity be established.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Christopher Miller.

The Journal of the eleventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Sovereign God, we hear all around the rumblings of possible war. Give the women and men who labor here an even deeper sense of inner peace. Aware of their responsibilities to our citizens and to our state, and in tune with the energies of the universe which cry for progress and harmony, help their words and actions today be safe harbors for the best of human aspirations.

Finally, give them safe journeys to home and constituencies for this weekend, if that is their plan, that they might return to us next week renewed and refreshed. All according to Your will. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2003

Representative Black in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Eternal God, You help our hearts warm at the beauty of human love and society's healthy development. You weep with us during tragedies like the one we began to endure two days ago. You are the warp and the woof of our joys and sorrows.

Fill this Chamber again this day and all days with pleasure at all that is fine, and with consolation when all seems hurtful. Give these representatives new resolve this week to work with each other attentively at building an even better society, one of less sadness and more enjoyment for all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Week, to serve without compensation: Daniel Emery.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2003

Representative Luetkemeyer in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, God of mercy and grace, it is written, "You are my hiding place; You preserve me from trouble", so may You hide us and preserve us through the days ahead.

Dear Lord, we stand humbled by the great responsibilities entrusted to us. May we not betray that trust.

May we incline our ear to wisdom and apply our hearts to understanding so that we might complete the tasks at hand.

Father, may we desire humility and honor, and be willing to serve and cooperate.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Devin Carr, Jenna Carr and Jessica Fetsch.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, gracious and kind, it is written: "Let integrity and honesty preserve me," even so preserve us as we endeavor to follow Your path of integrity and honesty.

Lord God, help us to keep clear lines of communication open; transcending our own intellect with Your wisdom.

May anything compromising truth be uncovered; exposed and disposed of. Provide us the energy and endurance to prevail over long exhausting days and the soundness of mind to make proper decisions.

Heavenly Father, may our words, thoughts, and intent of our hearts be acceptable in Your sight.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2003

Speaker Pro Tem Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord of life and God of all consolation, we pause for a moment and remember that You are in our midst, that You create the very midst in which we can live, love, and work.

The cold and snow bears down on some of the poor in our cities and on our farms today, the anxiety of a world in dread of terrorism and of the rumors of war surrounds us all. In any of this darkness, weakness, ignorance, or need, we ask a blessing of light, strength, and wisdom from You today.

Fill these men and women, this solemn body, with Your good and Holy Spirit. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2003

Representative Myers in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Another week begins for this legislative body, O Lord. The session has gotten off to a good start, but the challenges are great. Tight finances, budget deficit, policies of education, rising cost of health services, eroding infrastructure on our roads and highways, a down-turned economy, more homeless in our cities, farm-woes, fear of terrorism and the threat of a major war, name only a few.

The thought that You might not be here breeds deep pessimism. With You, however, in heart and mind, let our attitudes be positive, our ideals morally high, and our ideas creative and innovative. May this legislative week begin today, completely in Your grace and friendship. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Bishop Paul A. Stewart.

Dear God: We have come to pray for our state legislators for their decisions are often very difficult and affect very many lives.

Yet, Lord, keep them mindful that God's will is not always easy, but it is always right and enable them to enjoy many of the benefits of being in a high position. Yet, keep them aware that no joy is complete unless it is shared.

Finally Lord, as the poet has expressed that "No door is too difficult for the key of love to open," grant each legislator an abiding love for the world - our county - our state - all people - because no door is too difficult for the key of love to open.

It is in the name of God, we ask these blessings. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Eden Soleil Perez, Kristin Gabrielle Walker, Kody Allen Walker, Darryn A. Driver, Kyle D. Gardner, David Heard, Sylvester Holmes II, Josh Guinn, D'Marco Keys, Codi Irvin and Brianna Reichenbacher.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, our Shelter and Strength, it is written, "I will instruct you in the way which you should go, I will counsel you", even so instruct and counsel us in the way we should go throughout this day.

We receive our provision of wisdom and ability for this day and openly acknowledge our desire and express our request that You overflow our lives with Your understanding that we might come to favored solutions.

As always, we pray for our families that You may watch between us and them while we are absent from one another. May they prosper in all they do.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Samantha Hill, Tabitha Hill, Clayton Hill, Jackson Hill, Tony Blankenship, Lindsey Hoerath, Brenna Kretzer, Josh Bird, Drielle Cole and Krystal White.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, sometimes we seem to wait in vain for Your strength and love. At those times, perhaps You challenge us to fall back on our own giftedness and talents, to work together more closely, more compassionately, that we might come to know our own strength and our own capacity to care. Those are the gifts You have planted deep in our hearts and souls anyway.

So as this House comes to order, may these women and men come to know again their God-given capacities and use them today to make Missouri even better. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Rachel Proffitt, Brad Steinke, Ian Kreher and Hannah Thomas.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2003

Representative Phillips in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Ronnie Miller.

Dear God, we present two members of our House of Representatives family for healing of health problems, Representative Maurice Lawson and Representative Annie Reinhart.

Heavenly Father, bless the doctors as well as the medication they are being administered.

Lord, be with our families as we are apart from them.

I pray that You will bless our Leaders, world, national, state and local, that they might come before You seeking a peace that passes human understanding in decisions they must make.

Forgive us when we fail You.

Thank You for being in control. These things we ask in Jesus name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Andron Barnett, Jared Jackson and Joshua Jackson.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, our Rock and Fortress, it is written: "You have seen my affliction; You have known the trouble of my soul," even so, comfort us in our affliction; give peace to our soul as we confront the issues of this day.

Lord God, grant us an understanding of the times we live in. May we recognize that our future is bright and our time is in Your hands. Uncover and reveal Your plan for us.

Sink Your wisdom deep within our hearts that we might be equipped and prepared to overcome the challenges of this day.

Heavenly Father, may the words of our mouths and the meditation of our hearts be acceptable in Your sight.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ronald Rorie, Jr. and Andrew Jennings.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Father James Smith.

Wisdom 9: 1-7, 9-11, 17-18 Adapted

God of our fathers, Lord of mercy, You who made all things by Your word and in Your wisdom have established humanity to rule the creatures produced by You, to govern the world in holiness and justice, and to render judgment in integrity of heart: Give us wisdom, the attendant at Your throne, and reject us not from among Your children; For we are Your servants, the sons and daughters of Your handmaid, weak, short-lived, lacking in comprehension of judgment and of laws. Indeed, though one be perfect among the sons of men, if Wisdom, who comes from You be not with him, he shall be held in no esteem. You have chosen leaders over Your people and magistrates for Your sons and daughters.

Now with You is Wisdom, who knows Your works and was present when You made the world; Who understands what is pleasing in Your eyes and what is conformable with Your commands. Send her forth from Your holy heavens and from Your glorious throne dispatch her that she may be with us and work with us, that we may know what is Your pleasure. For she knows and understands all things, and will guide us discreetly in our affairs, and safeguard us by her glory.

Who ever knew Your counsel, except You had given Wisdom and sent Your Holy Spirit from on high? Thus, the paths of those on earth were made straight, and we learned what is Your pleasure, and were saved by Wisdom. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Caleb Messer, Charity Ketcham, Mariah Sterling, Croix Sterling, Kala Hunting and Alexis Hunting.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as printed.

Representative Quinn assumed the Chair.

Representative Crowell moved that Rule 113 be suspended to receive guests of Representative Quinn for special recognition.

Which motion was adopted by the following vote:

HB 254 - Byrd

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Donald Lammers, Pastor, St. Peter Church, Jefferson City, Mo.

God, source of all freedom, creator of all material things, we too, are the work of Your hands.

Guide us in our work today, that we may do it, not for self alone, but for the common good.

Give us the insight to see things as they are, that we may speak, plan and decide wisely.

Grant us, as an assembly, the courage and right judgment to do our part in providing "homeland security", sufficient employment for all our people, education for our youth and children, and for those too weak to provide for themselves the basic needs of life.

God, Father of all humankind, cause all the cultures and nations of the world to become capable of living together in peace.

In these days of threat of war, inspire the minds of our President and of other leaders of nations to find a way to resolve the extreme crisis before us without going to war.

Through the Holy Spirit, may we pray in our hearts for peace throughout this day. In Your holy name, O God, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Windsor Esther.

The Journal of the twenty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

Representative Crowell moved that Rule 113 be suspended to receive guests of Representatives Rector and Shoemyer (9) for special recognition.

Which motion was adopted by the following vote:

HOUSE RESOLUTION

House Resolution No. 450 was taken up by Representative Shoemyer (9) and read.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 450

WHEREAS, it is with utmost respect that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives pause in their daily legislative endeavors in order to recognize those Show-Me State residents who truly embody the concept of Outstanding Missourian through their deeds and achievements; and

WHEREAS, seventy-two-year-old Bill Henderson and his forty-year-old son, David Henderson, have attained distinction as pharmacists who own and operate Henderson's Drug Store in Glasgow, Missouri; and

WHEREAS, one hundred sixty-one years ago Bill Henderson's great-grandfather, Osborne Henderson, purchased an apothecary shop from his colleague, Dr. Ober, after a particularly harrowing experience as the doctor's assistant led him to decide not to enter the medical field as a physician; and

WHEREAS, noted for its green and white tile floor with the name "Henderson's" incorporated into the design, Henderson's Drug Store has remained in the family's talented, dedicated hands ever since; and

WHEREAS, located at three different sites over the years, Henderson's Drug Store today is housed in the same building to which it was moved in 1916 with the pharmacy in the back and an old-fashioned soda fountain and hamburger grill near the entrance; and

WHEREAS, Bill and David Henderson fill prescriptions all 365 days of the year at any time of night or day, and take pride in delivering orders to those customers who can't pick them up in person; and

WHEREAS, in keeping with the small-town tradition of family-run businesses, Bill's wife, Delma; David's wife, Sarah; and longtime employees, Jeanie Strodman and Susan Peuster, have proven to be an integral part of the Henderson's Drug Store business by waiting on customers at the soda fountain any time the pharmacists are busy providing much-needed medications to people in the tri-county area:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-second General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the exceptional history of unparalleled service wrought by the father-son pharmacist team of Bill and David Henderson and to convey to them this legislative body's heartiest congratulations and best wishes as they carry on a five-generation-long family business; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Outstanding Missourians Bill and David Henderson of Glasgow, Missouri.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2003

Representative Cooper (120) in the Chair.

Prayer by Marilyn Seaton, Senior Journal Clerk.

God of Grace and God of Glory, we Your children, pause now to offer before You our prayers of thanksgiving for the blessings of our life. We are thankful for ideas and insight, for clear headed thinking, helpful friends, and the joys of the family that loves and sustains us.

Give to all in this House a keen sense of Your truth and help us take to heart the injunction to "judge not, lest you be judged". Illuminate our minds and grant to us a necessary humility of spirit.

To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, our Help and Shield, it is written: "The Lord brings the counsel of the nations to nothing. He makes the plans of the peoples of no effect," even so may Your counsel stand forever and the plans of Your heart made known to us this day.

You have given us all the means, resources, wealth, wisdom, and strength that we need to bring us out of our current darkened condition.

Sink Your wisdom deep within our hearts that we might be equipped and prepared to overcome the challenges of this day.

Heavenly Father, we need to know what is and isn't vital. Put our attention on things of real value. Make known to us Your authority and may we not abuse it.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Natalie Bailey, Channing Schussler, Tyler Danforth, Clint Beasley and Matt Cooper.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as printed.

Representative Crowell suggested the absence of a quorum.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, the scriptures declare, "he who trusts in the Lord, mercy shall surround him", and so we trust You and Your mercy surrounds us.

Because we trust in You, we can live free from confusion within the chaos that surrounds us. Because we trust in You, we can live supported beyond whatever stress or trial we may face.

May our take of the future be from Your heavenly viewpoint. For it is written, "I sought the Lord and He answered me and delivered me from all my fears."

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sarah Berger, Shila Sperry, Megan Ormsby, Josh Smith, Jillian Gardner, Maddie Stevenson, Julia Lenci, Cory Reffitt, Tim Zook, Julianna K. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTIETH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 3, 2003

Representative Behnen in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative David Pearce.

Dear Heavenly Father,

As we enter into our third month of this legislative session, we thank You for safe travels to our state Capitol.

We ask that You be with our families in our absence and that You will watch safely over them.

Thank You for our hard working staff and house employees who make the legislative process run smoothly.

And finally, we ask that Your wisdom and guidance will be with us during this legislative session. As You mentioned in Proverbs 4:5, and 7: "Get wisdom, get understanding, forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth. Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom. And with all thy getting, get understanding."

These things we ask in Your most holy name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 2003

Representative St. Onge in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Merciful and Gracious, it is written: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord..." even so may You bless us as we seek Your guidance.

We understand that we resolve no issues by our great intellect, position, or abilities, but because of Your great grace and mercy showered upon us.

We choose to live each day and govern our activities as wise servants who expect answers. May all barriers be removed and the door opened to new ways and new strategies.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brendan Mulqueeney, Julianna K. Smith and Lauren Berry.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Loving and Kind, You said that whatever is hidden will be disclosed. Whatever is concealed will be brought to the light. Even so shed light on the hidden things that hinder our progress. Reveal in our thinking the concealed things that promote success.

Father, we approach this day with great expectation knowing that if we rest in You and wait patiently on You, our latter end will be fulfillment of purpose.

So we yield ourselves to You, Heavenly Father, that You may grant us the requests of our heart and cause our day to be at peace.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sonya Spencer, Tyler Sudduth, Anna Thomas, Lindsay Grotjan, Cory Morris, Caleb Burnett, Lauran Gilstrap, Nicholas Turner, Kate Wright and Heather Wilson.

"208.556. 1. There is hereby established the "Missouri Senior Rx Program" within the division of aging in the department of health and senior services to help defray the costs of prescription drugs for elderly Missouri residents. After exceeding expenditures of twenty-five percent of his or her annual household income on prescription drugs as a deductible, a senior may qualify for participation in the program during a program year in which his or her household income minus the amount expended on prescription drugs is equal to or less than the limit required to qualify for participation in the program pursuant to this section.

5. The commission shall have the authority to set and adjust coinsurance, deductibles and enrollment fees at different amounts pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 4 of this section as a cost-containment measure.

6. Any person who has retired and received employer-sponsored health insurance while employed, but whose employer does not offer health insurance coverage to retirees shall not be subject to the six-month uninsured requirement.

7. The program established in this section is not an entitlement. Benefits shall be limited to the level supported by the moneys explicitly appropriated pursuant to this section. If in any fiscal year the commission projects that the total cost of the program will exceed the amount currently appropriated for the program, the commission may direct the third-party administrator to implement cost-control measures to reduce the projected cost. Such cost-control measures may include, but are not limited to, increasing the enrollment fees in subsection 12 of this section, the deductibles in subsection 11 of this section, and the coinsurance outlined in subsection 12 of this section. The Missouri Senior Rx program is a payer of last resort. If the federal government establishes a pharmaceutical assistance program that covers program-eligible seniors under Medicare or another program, the Missouri Senior Rx program shall cover only eligible costs not covered by the federal program.

8. Any person who is receiving Medicaid benefits shall not be eligible to participate in the program. The Missouri Senior Rx program is a payer of last resort. If a senior has coverage for pharmaceutical benefits through a health benefit plan, as defined in section 376.1350, RSMo, including a Medicare supplement or Medicare+Choice plan, or through a self-funded employee benefit plan, the Missouri Senior Rx program shall pay only for eligible costs not provided by such coverage. Individuals who have benefits with an actuarial value greater than or equal to the benefits in the program are not eligible for the program.

9. Applicants for the program shall submit an annual application to the division, or the division's designee, that attests to the age, residence, any third-party health insurance coverage, previous year prescription drug costs, annual household income for an individual or couple, if married, and any other information the commission deems necessary. The third-party administrator shall prescribe the form of the application for enrollment in the program, which shall be approved by the division. The commission shall develop and implement a means test by which applicants must demonstrate that they meet the income requirement of the program. Information provided by applicants and enrollees pursuant to sections 208.550 to 208.571 is confidential and shall not be disclosed by the commission, the division or any other state agency or contractor therein in any form.

10. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring an applicant to accept Medicaid benefits in lieu of participation in this program.

11. The following deductibles shall apply to enrollees in the program:

(1) For an individual with a household income at or below twelve thousand dollars, the deductible shall, in the initial year, not be less than two hundred fifty dollars;

(2) For a married couple with a household income at or below seventeen thousand dollars, the deductible shall, in the initial year, not be less than two hundred fifty dollars for each person;

(3) For an individual with a household income between twelve thousand one dollars and seventeen thousand dollars, the deductible shall, in the initial year, not be less than five hundred dollars; and

(4) For a married couple with a household income between seventeen thousand one dollars and twenty-three thousand dollars, the deductible shall, in the initial year, not be less than five hundred dollars for each person.

12. For prescription drugs, enrollees shall pay a forty percent coinsurance. The division may implement a higher coinsurance at the recommendation of the commission. Such coinsurance may be adjusted annually by the commission and shall be used to reduce the state's cost for the program. In addition, each enrollee with an annual household income at or below twelve thousand dollars for an individual or at or below seventeen thousand dollars for a married couple shall pay, in the initial year, not less than an annual twenty-five dollar enrollment fee and each enrollee with a household income between twelve thousand one dollars and seventeen thousand dollars for an individual or at or below between seventeen thousand one dollars and twenty-three thousand dollars for a married couple shall pay, in the initial year, not less than an annual thirty-five dollar enrollment fee to offset the administrative costs of the program.

13. The total annual expenditures for each enrollee under this program may be up to but shall not exceed five thousand dollars for each participant.

14. In providing program benefits, the department may enter into a contract with a private individual, corporation or agency to implement the program.

15. The division shall utilize area agencies on aging, senior citizens centers, and other senior-focused entities to provide outreach, enrollment referral assistance, and education services to potentially eligible seniors for the Missouri Senior Rx program. The division and third-party administrators shall be responsible for informing eligible seniors on the availability of and providing information about pharmaceutical company benefits which may be applicable.

16. The commission shall submit quarterly reports to the governor, the senate appropriations committee, the house of representatives budget committee, the speaker of the house of representatives, the president pro tem of the senate, and the division that include:

(1) Quantified data as to the number of program applicants;

(2) An estimate of whether the current rate of expenditures will exceed the existing appropriation for the program in the current fiscal year; and

(3) Information regarding the commission's recommendations for changes to income eligibility, enrollment fees, coinsurance, deductibles, and benefit caps for enrollees in the program.

17. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in sections 208.550 to 208.571 shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. Sections 208.550 to 208.571 and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2002, shall be invalid and void.

18. Any person who knowingly makes any false statements, falsifies or permits to be falsified any records, or engages in conduct in an attempt to defraud the program is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall forfeit all rights to which he or she may be entitled hereunder."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

Representative Zweifel moved that House Amendment No. 2 be adopted.

BILL IN CONFERENCE

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Joseph A. Weber, Jr., St. Andrew Roman Catholic Church, Lemay, Missouri.

Loving God, the distinguished members of this House turn to You this day seeking Your guidance. Before the hills or rivers were created, You are.

All things come from You and through You...and we are most grateful. We ask that You would be with the members of this House during their hearings, their conferences, their deliberations, and their debates.

Grant them the gifts of wisdom, understanding, counsel, strength, and knowledge (Is 11:2) to do Your will for the people of this state.

As the people of this state and nation are faced with many crises and opportunities, may they be open to the promptings of Your Spirit, so that they may continually recall that "the welfare of the people shall be the supreme law."

Lord God, may they show forth a unity of purpose so that the wish of the psalmist, may come forth here in this place:

"Behold, how good it is, and how pleasant, where brothers and sisters dwell in unity" (Psalm 134:1). Be with the members of this House, O loving God, and grant all of us Your peace.

We ask this in Your holy name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: John Salva.

The Journal of the thirty-second day was approved as corrected.

Representative Crowell moved that Rule 113 be suspended in order to receive guests of Representative Wallace for special recognition.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 10, 2003

Representative Fares in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Leon Riddle.

Dear Heavenly Father, we indeed live in a world that tries men's souls, patience, and faith. Frightening terrorism, vitriolic conflict between nations, economic uncertainty, and deep conflicting opinions among our own people have created fear, panic, and paralysis within our nation.

Possibly not in decades have elected men and women come to this place to make decisions facing the seemingly impossible task of bringing some degree of order out of chaos, hope out of uncertainty, and agreement out of division so that the people of our state may experience a sense of optimism and security.

But to accomplish these things, these representatives must have a wisdom greater than their own. They need an anointment from above. You, Father, and You alone possess all wisdom. You know tomorrow and every tomorrow until the end of time as well as You know today. You know the solution to every problem even before we are confronted by that problem. I pray, therefore, that You will impart to every member of this House of Representatives a portion of divine wisdom so that they may act for our greater good and their satisfaction.

In addition, I pray that You will give them the courage to listen openly to all arguments and then to arrive at their own personal conclusions, and on the basis of their convictions act, even if it means being in the minority of the few or even the minority of one.

Speaking for the people of our state, I express our gratitude to You and these assembled here for their willingness to sacrifice their energy and time--time away from family, jobs, and communities--to serve in this House as representatives of the citizens of Missouri.

In Christ's name I pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as printed.

Heavenly Father, Holy and Exalted One, it is written: "Your mercy, O Lord extends to the Heavens, Your faithfulness reaches to the skies" so may Your mercy and faithfulness extend towards us as we begin this day.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Loving and Kind, it is written, "the steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord and He delights in his way." Even so establish our steps today; take pleasure in us as we yield to You.

May each one of us be more committed to and assured of Your will for this state. Turn up the volume in us that we might hear You with greater clarity.

May Your grace hover over the process and all the decisions being made throughout this session. Remove all that would obscure wisdom. Thank You for hearing us as we pray!

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Karson Holbrook, Kaidyn Holbrook, Kooper Holbrook, Kolton Holbrook, Caleb Messer, Joanna Clark, Greg Hughes, Chris Matthews, Gavin Taylor, Lauren Bird, Vernon Burns, Corby Cunningham, Courtney Vaughn, Serena Overly, Lisa Raffensperger, Harrison Smith, Lauren Tobin, Justin Funck, Katie Keim, Jack Reichenbach, Megan Kennedy and Kaitlyn Smyth.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Wayne Cooper.

O Lord, we have heard of Your fame and stand in awe of Your power. Renew Your works in our day, make them known to our generation.

As it is written, "Righteousness exalts a nation but sin is a reproach to any people."

We request that You lead us in the paths of righteousness for Your name's sake.

For You have promised that if Your people would humble themselves and pray and seek Your face and turn from their wicked ways, then You would hear their requests, forgive their sin and heal their land.

So help us to humble ourselves, so that You O God may have mercy on us and heal our land.

We ask this in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Drew Vines, Meagan Pryor, Melissa Pryor, Justin Buschjost, Austin Stumpe, Victoria Karvetska, Tatyana Dzhuleba, Olesya Bukharevskaya, Mary Alexandra Wilson, Kelsey Harman, Becca Avena, Gina Schwarz, Allie Antle, Nicolas Ray Self and Caleb Garrison Self.

Representative Behnen assumed the Chair.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 2003

Representative Bearden in the Chair.

Prayer by Chris Dunn, from the Office of Representative Carl Bearden

Heavenly Father,

Thank You for the gifts of grace and life for this new day.

Your Word says that You foil the plans of the nations and that You thwart the purposes of the peoples. It goes on to say that Your plans stand firm forever, the purposes of Your heart stand through all generations. This morning we ask that Your plan be accomplished here today.

Your Word asks, "Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show it by his good life, by deeds done in the humility that comes from wisdom." It goes on to say that, "the wisdom that comes from Heaven is first of all pure; then peace-loving, considerate, submissive, full of mercy and good fruit, impartial and sincere." Heavenly Father, we ask for this kind of wisdom today.

Your Word says that You, "oppose the proud but give grace to the humble." We ask for humility and submit ourselves to You today. We put our hope in You, Almighty God.

In Your name and for Your glory we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 17, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Mark Kiekhaefer, Grace Evangelical Free Church.

Most High God.

Your dominion is eternal, Your kingdom endures from generation to generation. We, the people of the earth, are regarded as nothing before You. You do as You please with the powers of heaven and the peoples of the earth. (Daniel 4:34-35)

I come before You this day to pray for these elected representatives of Missouri...

- 1) May they be examples of righteousness for the people of our state.
- 2) Grant them divine wisdom for their deliberations this day.
- 3) May Your justice be advanced in our communities as a result of their work.
- 4) May we all be restrained from doing anything that would hinder Your purposes.
- 5) May there be humility, respect and peace in working toward solutions for the issues before this body.

We bring before Your throne the physical needs of those we care about, and especially remember Your servant David Buescher and ask You to extend Your healing hand to him.

We are mindful too of the clouds of war that are on the horizon for our nation. We ask You, the Prince of Peace, to bring about a lasting peace in our days. Even now we lift our voices and plead for a resolution that avoids armed conflict. If the fighting begins, we ask for Your protection over - all American and allied soldiers and the people in Iraq. May the unjust be removed, the wicked brought to judgment. (Psalm 10:15 paraphrase) and may peace and liberty be established in that land we pray.

And so, I commit these requests to You and ask for Your favor upon us this day.

In the name of my Lord, Jesus. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Caroline Krewson.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILL

HCS HB 600, relating to the collection of taxes, was taken up by Representative Cooper (120).

Representative Cooper (120) offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 600, Page 9, Section 144.025, Line 37, by deleting the word “primarily”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 9, Section 144.025, Line 41, by inserting after said line the following:

“144.081. 1. The director of revenue, by regulation, may require a seller to timely remit the unpaid state sales tax for each quarter-monthly period, only if the seller's aggregate state sales tax was ten thousand dollars or more in each of at least six months during the prior twelve months. The term "state sales tax" as used in this section means the tax imposed by sections 144.010 to 144.510 and the additional sales tax imposed by sections 43(a) to 43(c) and 47(a) to 47(c) of article IV of the Missouri Constitution and does not include any sales taxes imposed by political subdivisions of the state pursuant to other provisions of law.

2. The director may increase the monthly requirement to more than ten thousand dollars or otherwise narrow the application of the quarter-monthly remittance system authorized by this section. The director may not require the remittance of state sales taxes more often than monthly unless authorized by this section.

3. A remittance shall be timely if mailed as provided in section 143.851, RSMo, within three banking days after the end of the quarter-monthly period or if received by the director or deposited in a depository designated by the director within four banking days after the end of the quarter-monthly period.

4. The unpaid amount shall be after a reduction for the compensation provided by section 144.140. The unpaid amount at the end of a quarter-monthly period shall not include unpaid amounts for a prior quarter-monthly period only if the seller made a remittance with respect to the prior quarter-monthly period. The excess, if any, of a remittance over the actual amount for a period shall be applied in order of time to each of the seller's succeeding remittances with respect to the same return period.

5. For purposes of this section, "quarter-monthly period" means:

- (1) The first seven days of a calendar month;
- (2) The eighth to fifteenth day of a calendar month;
- (3) The sixteenth to twenty-second day of a calendar month; and
- (4) The portion following the twenty-second of a calendar month.

6. (1) In the case of an underpayment of any amount required to be paid pursuant to this section, a seller shall be liable for a penalty in lieu of all other penalties, interest or additions to tax imposed by this chapter for violating this section. The penalty shall be five percent of the amount of the underpayment determined under subdivision (2) of this subsection.

(2) The amount of the underpayment shall be the excess of:

- (a) Ninety percent of the unpaid amount at the end of a quarter-monthly period, over
- (b) The amount, if any, of the timely remittance for the quarter-monthly period.

7. (1) The penalty with respect to any quarter-monthly period shall not be imposed if the seller's timely remittance for the quarter-monthly period equals or exceeds one-fourth of the average monthly state sales tax liability of the seller for the preceding calendar year. The month of highest liability and the month of lowest liability shall be excluded in computing the average. This subdivision shall apply only to a seller who had a state sales tax liability for at least six months of the previous calendar year.

(2) The penalty shall not be imposed if the seller establishes that the failure to make a timely remittance of at least ninety percent was due to reasonable cause, and not due to willful neglect.

(3) The penalty shall not be imposed against any seller for the first two months the seller is obligated to make quarter-monthly remittance of state sales taxes.

8. Tax amounts remitted under this section shall be treated as payments on the seller's monthly return required by sections 144.080 and 144.090. Tax amounts remitted under this section shall be deemed to have been paid on the last day prescribed for filing the return. The preceding sentence shall apply in computing compensation under section 144.140, interest, penalties and additions to tax and for purposes of all sections of this chapter, except this section.

9. The director of revenue may prescribe the use of an electronic funds payment system for the payment of sales and use taxes by any seller subject to the requirement of quarter-monthly remittance as provided in this section.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 11, Section 2, Line 3, by deleting the words “tax returns and pay all state taxes” and inserting in lieu thereof the words “income tax returns and pay all state income taxes”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 11, Section 2, Line 8, by deleting the words “tax returns have been filed and all state” and inserting in lieu thereof the words “income tax returns have been filed and all state income”; and

"144.190. 1. If a tax has been incorrectly computed by reason of a clerical error or mistake on the part of the director of revenue, such fact shall be set forth in the records of the director of revenue, and the amount of the overpayment shall be credited on any taxes then due from the person legally obligated to remit the tax pursuant to sections 144.010 to 144.525, and the balance shall be refunded to the person legally obligated to remit the tax, such person's administrators or executors, as provided for in section 144.200.

2. If any tax, penalty or interest has been paid more than once, or has been erroneously or illegally collected, or has been erroneously or illegally computed, such sum shall be credited on any taxes then due from the person legally obligated to remit the tax pursuant to sections 144.010 to 144.525, and the balance, with interest as determined by section 32.065, RSMo, shall be refunded to the person legally obligated to remit the tax, but no such credit or refund shall be allowed unless duplicate copies of a claim for refund are filed within three years from date of overpayment.

3. If any tax was paid more than once, or was incorrectly collected or computed, such sum shall be credited on any taxes due from the person legally obligated to remit the tax pursuant to this chapter, or refunded, with interest as determined by section 32.065, RSMo, to the person legally obligated to remit the tax if duplicate copies of a claim for refund are filed within three years from the date of overpayment and:

(1) The person legally obligated to remit the tax demonstrates to the satisfaction of the director of revenue that all incorrectly collected or computed amounts were or will be refunded or credited to every purchaser that originally paid the tax; or

(2) The person legally obligated to remit the tax submits to the director amended sales tax returns showing the correct amount of gross receipts for each reporting period originally filed and proves to the director's satisfaction that the tax originally reported and remitted to the director was paid by such person claiming the refund or credit and was not collected from purchasers; or

(3) The person legally obligated to remit the tax submits a plan between the person and the director to generally refund the amount of overpayment in equal installments to the person's future customers by a mutually agreed to distribution of a fixed value coupon to the customers.

4. Every claim for refund must be in writing and signed by the applicant, and must state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded. Any refund or any portion thereof which is erroneously made, and any credit or any portion thereof which is erroneously allowed, may be recovered in any action brought by the director of revenue against the person legally obligated to remit the tax. In the event that a tax has been illegally imposed against a person legally obligated to remit the tax, the director of revenue shall authorize the cancellation of the tax upon the director's record.

[4.] 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the director of revenue shall authorize direct-pay agreements to purchasers which have annual purchases in excess of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the director of revenue. For the purposes of such direct-pay agreements, the taxes authorized pursuant to chapters 66, 67, 70, 92, 94, 162, 190, 238, 321, and 644, RSMo, shall be remitted based upon the location of the place of business of the purchaser.

[5.] 6. Special rules applicable to error corrections requested by customers of mobile telecommunications service are as follows:

(1) For purposes of this subsection, the terms "customer", "home service provider", "place of primary use", "electronic database", and "enhanced zip code" shall have the same meanings as defined in the Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act incorporated by reference in section 144.013;

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if a customer of mobile telecommunications services believes that the amount of tax, the assignment of place of primary use or the taxing jurisdiction included on a billing is erroneous, the customer shall notify the home service provider, in writing, within three years from the date of the billing statement. The customer shall include in such written notification the street address for the customer's place of primary use, the account name and number for which the customer seeks a correction of the tax assignment, a description of the error asserted by the customer and any other information the home service provider reasonably requires to process the request;

(3) Within sixty days of receiving the customer's notice, the home service provider shall review its records and the electronic database or enhanced zip code to determine the customer's correct taxing jurisdiction. If the home service provider determines that the review shows that the amount of tax, assignment of place of primary use or taxing jurisdiction is in error, the home service provider shall correct the error and, at its election, either refund or credit the amount of tax erroneously collected to the customer for a period of up to three years from the last day of the home service provider's sixty-day review period. If the home service provider determines that the review shows that the amount of tax, the assignment of place of primary use or the taxing jurisdiction is correct, the home service provider shall provide a written explanation of its determination to the customer."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Gracious and Merciful, it is written: "You will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on You, because he trusts in You", so may we enjoy Your perfect peace as we keep our minds on You and trust You.

In whatever we face, there is flexibility. In whatever the demand, there are resources. In whatever the question, there is an answer. So we look to Your abundant wisdom in all things.

May You reveal Your custom-made plan for us this day and coming weeks, that we might ultimately hear, "Well done thy good and faithful servant."

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kylie Bassett, Anna Duncan, Reid Black, Justin Davis, Darby Dachroeden, Joe Wingerter, Michelle Wingerter, Jesse Simmons, Megan Hohenstein, Elise Moser, Tim Johnson and Matt Eckard.

The Journal of the thirty-ninth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd General Assembly

FORTY-FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 2003

Representative May in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, All Knowing and All Seeing, it is written, "All my desire is known to You; and my sighing is not hidden from You". Even so grant our desire, hear our prayer before You this day.

Work in us and prepare us for the coming days. May Your grace and mercy saturate our counties, state and nation. May Your peace that passes understanding guard our hearts and minds.

May we stand as one people united under You that Your plans and purposes might be fulfilled in and through us. Bless the work of our hand as we continue the business of the State.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Dr. Phillip McClendon, Calvary Baptist Church, Joplin, Missouri.

Our Father,

We ask for wisdom and guidance for the members of this House as they make decisions that affect our state, our nation and our world.

Especially on this historic day, the first day of war with Iraq. Be with our President and the military and their families.

At this strategic time in history, we ask for empowerment for our nation to do what is right.

In Christ's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Luke Hager, Cecelia Anderson, Seanny Stucker, Jacob Knight, Blake Willoughby, Samuel Enright, Alex Panu, Kendra Coulter, Blake Genser, Eric Barman, Klay Talmadge, Blake Jensen, Jackie Behnen, Vickie Behnen, Nathan Brizendine and Nathan Pringle.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-THIRD DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 31, 2003

Representative May in the Chair.

Prayer by Dr. James Johnston, Pastor, Morse Mill Baptist Church.

Our gracious and kind heavenly Father, I praise You for Your mercy and grace that You lovingly extend to us through our Lord Jesus Christ. Because You are Lord of this nation, help us to trust and live according to Your will in righteousness and justice. I pray for Your watch and care over our men and women as they are engaged in Operation Iraqi Freedom. I thank You for those who stand in harm's way in order to gain freedom for the Iraqi people and to preserve and protect us from terrorist's attacks at home and abroad.

I pray for Your guidance, wisdom, courage, and strength for our state legislators as they make decisions that will affect our state. I pray that You will be with their families while they are away from home.

Dear Lord, please help us to be good managers of Your beautiful world that You created. And please help us to protect the innocent and defenseless unborn children, many of whom are in more danger of their lives than our own soldiers in combat.

Please help our nation to return to the godly principles upon which it was founded, before You have to send judgment upon us as You have other nations in the past who have forgotten You.

Again, I pray Your special blessings and guidance upon these state legislators as they meet. Dear Lord, help us all to surrender our lives to You so that we may be instruments in Your hands to bring revival to our nation.

In Jesus name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the forty-second day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Our Glory and the Lifter of our heads, it is written, "The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous run into it and is safe" so may You show Yourself strong on our behalf. May we call on You and find safety.

As we return to the duties at hand, may we be ever mindful of our deployed troops. We ask that You preserve their coming and going in the midst of battle from this time forward and throughout the war. May Your peace that passes all understanding guard not only their hearts and minds, but also the hearts and minds of their families and friends who patiently await their return.

May their heads be lifted up, their spirits high and their faith unwavering as they serve in the midst of harms way.

Father, we continue our steadfast support for our troops and their families even as You continue Your steadfast love for us.

Guide us in Your love this day. Grant us wisdom, patience, and unity of purpose.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Allison Croghan, Grant Shaffer, Eric Shaffer, Kerby Schwer, Brandon Schwer, Claire Borgschulte, Adam Fleddermann, Joshua D'Souza, Katelyn Klump, Scott Laurentius, Joe Vitale, Jennifer Mulliken, Austin Blakley, Camillia Smith, Kevin Well, Jennifer Watt, Max Harvatin, Savannah Mitchell and Cory Feil.

HOUSE RESOLUTION

House Resolution No. 1234 was taken up by Representative Munzlinger and read.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 1234

WHEREAS, it is with utmost respect that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives pause in their daily legislative endeavors in order to recognize those Show-Me State residents who truly embody the concept of Outstanding Missourian through their deeds and achievements; and

WHEREAS, Russell Heindselman has attained considerable distinction in life as a conservationist, entrepreneur, and poet whose poems have hung in the offices of several governors and numerous state representatives from the First District; and

WHEREAS, an agriculturalist whose fifteen acres are the epitome of diversification, Russell Heindselman raises catfish and quail for the food market, bait fish and worms for his tackle business, sweet corn and raspberries for the nearby Quincy, Illinois, farmers markets, and grapes for wine production; and

WHEREAS, Russell Heindselman also produces and sells his own design of bluebird houses which are predator and rain resistant due to a flat roof, ridges to direct moisture, and the use of a narrow mounting pole which is difficult for animals to climb; and

WHEREAS, in addition to his innovative use of carpet scraps to protect tree trunks, Russell Heindselman utilizes his knowledge of trees to produce large, thin-shelled pecans which are rare in production this far north and which provide a source for pecan seed and grafting wood for a separate, independent Missouri nursery; and

WHEREAS, on Tuesday, April 1, 2003, Russell Heindselman will meet with state legislators in the Missouri House of Representatives to receive well-deserved honors and accolades for the exemplary role he has performed in the La Grange area as an entrepreneur and business person dedicated to ensuring a diverse, thriving economy:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-second General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the significant contributions made by Russell Heindselman on behalf of the people and institutions of Missouri and to extend to him this legislative body's most heartfelt welcome to the state capitol on April 1, 2003, for special recognition as a guest in the House Chamber; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution in honor of "Outstanding Missourian" Russell Heindselman of La Grange in Lewis County.

Representative Hunter in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, our Helper and Sustainer, it is written, "the fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom and before honor is humility". Even so may we receive instruction of wisdom as we conduct ourselves humbly before You.

May our decisions be based on Your wisdom. May we function as one great assembly accomplishing what is necessary for this great state. Give us wisdom beyond ourselves.

Heavenly Father, grant us insight to overcome unrealistic expectations resulting in frustration, guilt or anger. May we not give in to the pressures to perform, but yield to Your truth and Your way.

We would be remiss if we did not join in the celebration of the rescue of Jessica Lynch and the release of the four journalists. Thank You for answered prayers.

Now, may the grace of our Lord, and the love of God be with us all.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Adrienne Meyer, Tony Filla, Maddi Avery, Kurt Steinke, Maddie Stevenson, Caleb Messer and Drew Ireland.

The Journal of the forty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

Speaker Hanaway assumed the Chair.

On motion of Representative Smith (118), House Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Representative Rector offered House Amendment No. 2.House Amendment No. 2*

AMEND House Substitute for House Bill No. 267, by inserting in the appropriate location the following:

"137.082. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 137.075 and 137.080, to the contrary, a building or other structure classified as residential property pursuant to section 137.016, newly constructed and occupied on any parcel of real property shall be assessed and taxed on such assessed valuation as of the first day of the month following the date of occupancy for the proportionate part of the remaining year at the tax rates established for that year, in all taxing jurisdictions located in the county adopting this section as provided in subsection 8 of this section. Newly constructed residential property which has never been occupied shall not be assessed as improved real property until such occupancy or the first day of January of the second year following the year in which construction of the improvements was completed.

2. The assessor may consider a property residentially occupied upon personal verification or when any two of the following conditions have been met:

- (1) An occupancy permit has been issued for the property;
- (2) A deed transferring ownership from one party to another has been filed with the recorder of deeds' office subsequent to the date of the first permanent utility service;
- (3) A utility company providing service in the county has verified a transfer of service for property from one party to another;
- (4) The person or persons occupying the newly constructed property has registered a change of address with any local, state or federal governmental office or agency.

3. In implementing the provisions of this section, the assessor may use occupancy permits, building permits, warranty deeds, utility connection documents, including telephone connections, or other official documents as may be necessary to discover the existence of newly constructed properties. No utility company shall refuse to provide verification monthly to the assessor of a utility connection to a newly occupied single family building or structure.

4. In the event that the assessment under subsections 1 and 2 of this section is not completed until after the deadline for filing appeals in a given tax year, the owner of the newly constructed property who is aggrieved by the assessment of the property may appeal this assessment the following year to the county board of equalization in accordance with chapter 138, RSMo, and may pay any taxes under protest in accordance with section 139.031, RSMo. The collector shall impound such protested taxes and shall not disburse such taxes until resolution of the appeal.

5. The increase in assessed valuation resulting from the implementation of the provisions of this section shall be considered new construction and improvements under the provisions of this chapter.

6. In counties which adopt the provisions of subsections 1 to 7 of this section, an amount not to exceed ten percent of all ad valorem property tax collections on newly constructed and occupied residential property allocable to each taxing authority within counties of the first classification having a population of nine hundred thousand or more, one-tenth of one percent of all ad valorem property tax collections allocable to each taxing authority within all other counties of the first classification other than any county of the first classification with more than eighty-two thousand but less than eighty-two thousand one hundred inhabitants and one-fifth of one percent of all ad valorem property tax collections allocable to each taxing authority within counties of the second, third and fourth classifications and any county of the first classification with more than eighty-two thousand but less than eighty-two thousand one hundred inhabitants, in addition to the amount prescribed by section 137.720 shall be deposited into the assessment fund of the county for collection costs.

7. For purposes of figuring the tax due on such newly constructed residential property, the assessor or the board of equalization shall place the full amount of the assessed valuation on the tax book upon the first day of the month following occupancy. Such assessed valuation shall be taxed for each month of the year following such date at its new assessed valuation, and for each month of the year preceding such date at its previous valuation. The percentage derived from dividing the number of months at which the property is taxed at its new valuation by twelve shall be applied to the total assessed valuation of the new construction and improvements, and such product shall be included in the next year's base for the purposes of figuring the next year's tax levy rollback. The untaxed percentage shall be considered as new construction and improvements in the following year and shall be exempt from the rollback provisions.

8. Subsections 1 to 7 of this section shall be effective in those counties including any city not within a county in which the governing body of such county elects to adopt a proposal to implement the provisions of subsections 1 to 7 of this section. Such subsections shall become effective in such county on the first day of January of the year following such election.

9. In any county which adopts the provisions of subsections 1 to 7 of this section prior to the first day of June in any year pursuant to subsection 8 of this section, the assessor of such county shall, upon application of the property owner, remove on a pro rata basis from the tax book for the current year any residential real property improvements destroyed by a natural disaster if such property is unoccupied and uninhabitable due to such destruction. On or after the first day of June, the board of equalization shall perform such duties. Any person claiming such destroyed property shall provide a list of such destroyed property to the county assessor. The assessor shall have available a supply of appropriate forms on which the claim shall be made. The assessor may verify all such destroyed property listed to ensure that the person made a correct statement. Any person who completes such a list and, with intent to defraud, includes property on the list that was not destroyed by a natural disaster shall, in addition to any other penalties provided by law, be assessed double the value of any property fraudulently listed. The list shall be filed by the assessor, after he has provided a copy of the list to the county collector and the board of equalization, in the office of the county clerk who, after entering the filing thereof, shall preserve and safely keep them. If the assessor, subsequent to such destruction, considers such property occupied as provided in subsection 2 of this section, the assessor shall consider such property new construction and improvements and shall assess such property accordingly as provided in subsection 1 of this section. For the purposes of this section, the term "natural disaster" means any disaster due to natural causes such as tornado, fire, flood, or earthquake.

10. Any political subdivision may recover the loss of revenue caused by subsection 9 of this section by adjusting the rate of taxation, to the extent previously authorized by the voters of such political subdivision, for the tax year immediately following the year of such destruction in an amount not to exceed the loss of revenue caused by this section."; and

The question shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the county at a county or state general, primary or special election upon the motion of the governing body of the county or upon the petition of eight percent of the qualified voters of the county determined on the basis of the number of votes cast for governor in such county at the last gubernatorial election held prior to the filing of the petition. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 2003

Representative Byrd in the Chair.

Prayer by Ms. Rhonda Nunn, House of Representatives Staff.

“Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, Oh Lord, my strength, and my redeemer”. (Psalm 19:14)

Father, as You look down upon us send Your Holy Spirit that will enable us to receive Your Word into our hearts. God, Your Word says that You are no respecter of persons and that everyone can be of a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation and a peculiar people as each of us show forth praises of You who hath called us out of darkness into Your marvelous light. (I Peter 2:9)

Lord, give a special blessing to the representatives who work to establish laws for our people. One of the greatest positions, statuses, or authorities a person could ever hold is to be a SERVANT of others. Please open our hearts to becoming men and women of integrity. Let us make decisions with Your guidance in establishing just and fair laws and exercising patience and tolerance toward others. May our lives be pleasing unto You. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Dustin Gieselmann, Elliott Hill, Chris Mitchell, Claire Sedovic, Resa Vanderfelz, LaDonna Nichols, Crystal Covey, Crystal Brown, Justin Skipper, Dustin Thompson, Trish Judy, Audrey Vadnais, Kimberly Maberry, Matthew Assel, Matt Wever, Morgan Crowell, Breanne Baker and Brittany Ridenhour.

The Journal of the forty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 7, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

This House, O God, again needs Your spirit. We count on Your presence in these difficult days of our state and for our nation. For our country and for the people of Iraq, we pray for a peaceful end to hostilities and open doors to new and creative beginnings.

For this our state, we invite even more wisdom and courage for these our representatives to continue to devise, discuss, and decide on plans which will help all our citizens, whatever their age, race, creed, or socio-economic status. In any insecurity, plant deeply a sense of belonging with You, of being home, always, with You, and consequently with each other. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

SIGNING OF HOUSE BILL

All other business of the House was suspended while HCS HB 554 was read at length and, there being no objection, was signed by the Speaker to the end that the same may become law.

Having been duly signed in open session of the Senate, HCS HB 554 was delivered to the Governor by the Chief Clerk of the House.

The Journal of the forty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

COMMITTEE REPORT

Committee on Education, Chairman Cunningham (86) reporting:

Madam Speaker: Your Committee on Education, to which was referred HCR 11, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

WHEREAS, current studies indicate that children left at home alone and unsupervised have lower academic test scores, have higher absentee rates at school, exhibit higher levels of fear, stress, nightmares, loneliness, and boredom, are 1.7 times more likely to use alcohol, and are 1.6 times more likely to smoke cigarettes; and

WHEREAS, recent data shows that violent juvenile crime rates soar and children are most likely to be victims of a violent crime committed by a nonfamily member between the hours of 3 p.m. and 8 p.m., the hours immediately after school; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Center for Juvenile Justice, children are at greater risk of being involved in crime, substance abuse, and teenage pregnancy in the hours after school, especially between the hours of 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the most common activity for children after school is watching television, resulting in an average 23 hours of television watching per week; and

WHEREAS, the parents of more than 800,000 Missouri school-age children work outside the home; and

WHEREAS, according to the estimates of the Urban Institute of the United States Census Bureau, at least 7 million and as many as 15 million "latchkey children" return to an empty house on any given afternoon; and

WHEREAS, in the United States, families worry about their children being unsafe and having too much idle, unsupervised time; and

WHEREAS, the United States Departments of Education and Justice report that children in quality out-of-school programs have better academic performance, school attendance, behavior, and greater expectations for the future; and

WHEREAS, children who attend high quality out-of-school programs have better peer relations, emotional adjustment, conflict resolution skills, grades, and conduct in school compared to their peers who are not in out-of-school programs; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs spend more time in learning opportunities, academic activities, and enrichment activities, and spend less time watching television than their peers; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs miss fewer days of school, have better homework completion, better school behavior, and higher test scores; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has recognized the beneficial impact of out-of-school programs to our youth, and has increased the funding of out-of-school programs administered by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; and

WHEREAS, 92% of all Americans believe there should be organized activities for all youth during out-of-school hours; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that less than 25% of all school-age children attend any out-of-school program, leaving 75% of our youth without a safe, supportive, and enriching environment during the unsupervised hours after the formal school day ends; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Interim committee on After-School Programs has studied several of the above-mentioned issues during the tenure of the Ninety-first General Assembly and recommends that a similar study committee be established to continue the study during the tenure of the Ninety-second General Assembly:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that the "Joint Legislative Committee on Out-of-School Programs" be created to be comprised of five members of the Senate, appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Senate Minority Floor Leader and five members of the House of Representatives, appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the House Minority Floor Leader; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee continue and expand the in-depth studies conducted by the prior Joint Interim Committee on After-school Programs and to make a comprehensive analysis of the quantity and quality of Missouri out-of-school programs, including the solicitation of information from appropriate state agencies, public schools, youth development organizations, law enforcement agencies and juvenile officers, youth development and education experts, and the public (including youth) regarding the status of out-of-school programs; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee, in consultation with the Departments of Elementary and Secondary Education, Social Services, and all other relevant agencies, make recommendations for an efficient and effective development plan to provide the opportunity for every Missouri school-age child to access quality out-of-school programs and design a system to train, mentor, and support out-of-school programs, and thereby guarantee their sustainability; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee be authorized to hold hearings as it deems advisable, and that the staffs of Senate Research, House Research, and the Committee on Legislative Research provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services requested by the committee; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly endorses all of state government to enthusiastically encourage our citizens to engage in innovative out-of-school programs and activities that ensure that all Missouri school-age children are not only safe, but also productive when the school day ends; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee report its recommendations and findings to the General Assembly by January 1, 2005, and the authority of such committee shall terminate on December 31, 2004, unless reauthorized.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, Our Source of Strength, it is written, "When I am afraid, I will put my trust in You", even so we trust in You in the midst of fearful and stressful times.

You are, indeed, the Source of everything: Strength for our day, wisdom for our task, grace for every battle, provision for each need, assistance for every encounter, and comfort for our soul.

Open our eyes that we might see victories rather than failures, progress rather than confusion, opportunities rather than opposition.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

To You be the glory, both now and forevermore.

In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kaylee Conley, Jenna Eck, Katie Eiskina and Kimberly Heidlage.

The Journal of the forty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

Madam Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 2.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

WHEREAS, current studies indicate that children left at home alone and unsupervised have lower academic test scores, have higher absentee rates at school, exhibit higher levels of fear, stress, nightmares, loneliness, and boredom, are 1.7 times more likely to use alcohol, and are 1.6 times more likely to smoke cigarettes; and

WHEREAS, recent data shows that violent juvenile crime rates soar and children are most likely to be victims of a violent crime committed by a nonfamily member between the hours of 3 p.m. and 8 p.m., the hours immediately after school; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Center for Juvenile Justice, children are at greater risk of being involved in crime, substance abuse, and teenage pregnancy in the hours after school, especially between the hours of 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.; and

WHEREAS, the most common activity for children after school is watching television, resulting in an average 23 hours of television watching per week; and

WHEREAS, the parents of more than 800,000 Missouri school-age children work outside the home; and

WHEREAS, according to the estimates of the Urban Institute of the United States Census Bureau, at least 7 million and as many as 15 million "latchkey children" return to an empty house on any given afternoon; and

WHEREAS, in the United States, families worry about their children being unsafe and having too much idle, unsupervised time; and

WHEREAS, the United States Departments of Education and Justice report that children in quality out-of-school programs have better academic performance, school attendance, behavior, and greater expectations for the future; and

WHEREAS, children who attend high quality out-of-school programs have better peer relations, emotional adjustment, conflict resolution skills, grades, and conduct in school compared to their peers who are not in out-of-school programs; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs spend more time in learning opportunities, academic activities, and enrichment activities, and spend less time watching television than their peers; and

WHEREAS, children who attend out-of-school programs miss fewer days of school, have better homework completion, better school behavior, and higher test scores; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has recognized the beneficial impact of out-of-school programs to our youth, and has increased the funding of out-of-school programs administered by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education; and

WHEREAS, 92% of all Americans believe there should be organized activities for all youth during out-of-school hours; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that less than 25% of all school-age children attend any out-of-school program, leaving 75% of our youth without a safe, supportive, and enriching environment during the unsupervised hours after the formal school day ends; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Interim Committee on After-School Programs has studied several of the above-mentioned issues during the tenure of the Ninety-first General Assembly and recommends that a similar study committee be established to continue the study during the tenure of the Ninety-second General Assembly:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Senate of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the "Joint Legislative Committee on Out-of-School Programs" be created to be comprised of five members of the Senate, appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and the Senate Minority Floor Leader and five members of the House of Representatives, appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the House Minority Floor Leader; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee continue and expand the in-depth studies conducted by the prior Joint Interim Committee on After-School Programs and to make a comprehensive analysis of the quantity and quality of Missouri out-of-school programs, including the solicitation of information from appropriate state agencies, public schools, youth development organizations, law enforcement agencies and juvenile officers, youth development and education experts, and the public (including youth) regarding the status of out-of-school programs; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee, in consultation with the Departments of Elementary and Secondary Education, Social Services, and all other relevant agencies, make recommendations for an efficient and effective development plan to provide the opportunity for every Missouri school-age child to access quality out-of-school programs and design a system to train, mentor, and support out-of-school programs, and thereby guarantee their sustainability; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee be authorized to hold hearings as it deems advisable, and that the staffs of Senate Research, House Research, and the Committee on Legislative Research provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services requested by the committee; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly endorses all of state government to enthusiastically encourage our citizens to engage in innovative out-of-school programs and activities that ensure that all Missouri school-age children are not only safe, but also productive when the school day ends; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee report its recommendations and findings to the General Assembly by January 1, 2005, and the authority of such committee shall terminate on December 31, 2004, unless reauthorized.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-NINTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2003

Speaker Pro Tem Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, we humbly approach You today on the basis of Your word, which says, "I will bless the Lord, who has given me counsel". For You give wisdom and out of Your mouth comes knowledge and understanding.

We are grateful that You guard the path of justice and preserve our way. Help us to discern righteousness, justice, fairness and every good way.

Father even as You have commanded light to shine out of darkness, may the light of understanding and truth shine in our hearts.

May You also continue to hold our families in Your hands and near Your heart as we serve apart from them.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

To You be the glory, both now and forever. In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jacob Byrne, A.J. The maximum charge shall be related to the per capita inpatient cost or actual outpatient evaluation or other service costs of each facility, program or service, which may vary from one locality to another. The director shall promulgate rules setting forth a reasonable standard means test which shall be applied by all facilities, programs and services operated or funded by the department in determining the amount to be charged to persons receiving services. The department shall pay, out of funds appropriated to it for such purpose, all or part of the costs for the evaluation, care, treatment, habilitation, rehabilitation or room and board provided or arranged by the department for any patient, resident or client who is domiciled in Missouri and who is unable to pay fully for services.

The director shall apply the standard means test annually and may make application of the test upon his own initiative or upon request of an interested party whenever evidence is offered tending to show that the current support status of any patient, resident or client is no longer proper. Any change of support status shall be retroactive to the date of application or request for review. If the persons responsible to pay under section 630.205 or 552.080, RSMo, refuse to cooperate in providing information necessary to properly apply the test or if retroactive benefits are paid on behalf of the patient, resident or client, the charges may be retroactive to a date prior to the date of application or request for review. The decision of the director in determining the amount to be charged for services to a patient, resident or client shall be final. Appeals from the determination may be taken to the circuit court of Cole County or the county where the person responsible for payment resides in the manner provided by chapter 536, RSMo.

3. The department shall not pay for services provided to a patient, resident or client who is not domiciled in Missouri unless the state is fully reimbursed for the services; except that the department may pay for services provided to a transient person for up to thirty days pending verification of his domiciliary state, and for services provided for up to thirty days in an emergency situation. The director shall promulgate rules for determination of the domiciliary state of any patient, resident or client receiving services from a facility, program or service operated or funded by the department.

4. Whenever a patient, resident or client is receiving services from a residential facility, day program or specialized service operated or funded by the department, and the state, county, municipality, parent, guardian or other person responsible for support of the patient, resident or client fails to pay any installment required to be paid for support, the department or the residential facility, day program or specialized service may discharge the patient, resident or client as provided by chapter 31, RSMo. The patient, resident or client shall not be discharged under this subsection until the final disposition of any appeal filed under subsection 2 of this section.

House Amendment No. 3

AMEND Part IX of House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill Nos. 404, 324, 403, 344, 426 & 541, Page 39, Line 11, by inserting the following immediate after said line:

“Section 393.190 is repealed and a new section is enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 393.190 and to read as follows:

Transfer of franchise or property to be approved, procedure—impact of transfer on local tax revenues, information on to be furnished, to whom, procedure.

393.190. 1. No gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation shall hereafter sell, assign, lease, transfer, mortgage or otherwise dispose of or encumber the whole or any part of its franchise, works or system, necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, nor by any means, direct or indirect, merge or consolidate such works or system, or franchises, or any part thereof, with any other corporation, person or public utility, without having first secured from the commission an order authorizing it so to do. No such order shall issue unless the commission has first made a specific finding that such sale, assignment, lease, transfer, mortgage, merger or consolidation is in the public interest. Every such sale, assignment, lease, transfer, mortgage, disposition, encumbrance, merger or consolidation made other than in accordance with the order of the commission authorizing same shall be void. The permission and approval of the commission to the exercise of a franchise or permit under this chapter, or the sale, assignment, lease, transfer, mortgage or other disposition or encumbrance of a franchise or permit under this section shall not be construed to revive or validate any lapsed or invalid franchise or permit, or to enlarge or add to the powers or privileges contained in the grant of any franchise or permit, or to waive any forfeiture. Any person seeking any order under this subsection authorizing the sale, assignment, lease, transfer, merger, consolidation or other disposition, direct or indirect, of any gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, or sewer corporation, shall, at the time of application for any such order, file with the commission a statement, in such form, manner and detail as the commission shall require, as to what, if any, impact such sale, assignment, lease, transfer, merger, consolidation, or other disposition will have on the tax revenues of the political subdivisions in which any structures, facilities or equipment of the corporations involved in such disposition are located. The commission shall send a copy of all information obtained by it as to what, if any, impact such sale, assignment, lease, transfer, merger, consolidation or other disposition will have on the tax revenues of various political subdivisions to the county clerk of each county in which any portion of a political subdivision which will be affected by such disposition is located. Nothing in this subsection contained shall be construed to prevent the sale, assignment, lease or other disposition by any corporation, person or public utility of a class designated in this subsection of property which is not necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, and any sale of its property by such corporation, person or public utility shall be conclusively presumed to have been of property which is not useful or necessary in the performance of its duties to the public, as to any purchaser of such property in good faith for value.

2. No such corporation shall directly or indirectly acquire the stock or bonds of any other corporation incorporated for, or engaged in, the same or a similar business, or proposing to operate or operating under a franchise from the same or any other municipality; neither shall any street railroad corporation acquire the stock or bonds of any electrical corporation, unless, in either case, authorized so to do by the commission. Save where stock shall be transferred or held for the purpose of collateral security, no stock corporation of any description, domestic or foreign, other than a gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, sewer corporation or street railroad corporation, shall, without the consent of the commission, purchase or acquire, take or hold, more than ten percent of the total capital stock issued by any gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation organized or existing under or by virtue of the laws of this state, except that a corporation now lawfully holding a majority of the capital stock of any gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation may, with the consent of the commission, acquire and hold the remainder of the capital stock of such gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation, or any portion thereof.

3. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the holding of stock heretofore lawfully acquired, or to prevent upon the surrender or exchange of said stock pursuant to a reorganization plan, the purchase, acquisition, taking or holding of a proportionate amount of stock of any new corporation organized to take over, at foreclosure or other sale, the property of any corporation whose stock has been thus surrendered or exchanged. Every contract, assignment, transfer or agreement for transfer of any stock by or through any person or corporation to any corporation in violation of any provision of this chapter shall be void and of no effect, and no such transfer or assignment shall be made upon the books of any such gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation or shall be recognized as effective for any purpose.”; and Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Representative Shoemyer (9) moved that House Amendment No. 3 to Part IX be adopted.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd General Assembly

FIFTY-FIRST DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 14, 2003

Representative Dempsey in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Gracious God, as we ask often, please help the people of Iraq and all that human power gathered there, that their country may be boosted into a more democratic and compassionate civilization. But also God, we just thank You for this beautiful day here in the state of Missouri.

Thank You for the natural richness and the plentiful resources You have seen fit to have all around us here. Aid these, our representatives, that they continue to lead all our people in the ways of thankful, respectful and careful stewardship of all the good in our natural world here and in that human web we've built across this portion of our country.

For this we pray, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Elizabeth Emery.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

WHEREAS, the Government Pension Offset (GPO) and Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) of the federal Social Security Act penalize people who have dedicated their lives to public service by taking away benefits they have earned; and

WHEREAS, nine out of ten public employees affected by the GPO lose their entire spousal benefit, even though their spouse paid Social Security taxes for many years; and

WHEREAS, the WEP causes hard-working people to lose up to sixty percent of the benefits they earned themselves; and

WHEREAS, many workers rely on misleading Social Security Administration statements that fail to take into account the GPO and WEP when projecting benefits; and

WHEREAS, the impact of the GPO and WEP is not just felt in those states in which public employees, including educators, are not covered by Social Security, because people move from state to state and affected individuals are everywhere; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP apply to all vested members of the Public School Retirement System of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the number of people affected across the country is growing every day as more and more people reach retirement age; and

WHEREAS, some 300,000 individuals lose an average of $3,600 a year due to the GPO; and

WHEREAS, this amount can make the difference between self-sufficiency and poverty; and

WHEREAS, these people have less money to spend in their local economy and sometimes have to turn to expensive government programs like food stamps to make ends meet; and

WHEREAS, during a national teacher shortage, the GPO and WEP discourage people from entering and staying in the teaching profession, since doing so will mean a loss of earned Social Security benefits; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP are also causing current educators to leave the profession and students to choose courses of study other than education; and

WHEREAS, non-Social Security states are finding it increasingly difficult to attract quality educators as more people learn about the GPO and WEP; and

WHEREAS, the nation should respect, not penalize, public service; and

WHEREAS, the GPO and WEP are established in federal law and repeal of the GPO and WEP can only be enacted by the United States Congress:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to immediately repeal the Government Pension Offset and Windfall Elimination Provision of the Social Security Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Madam Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has third read and passed SCS SCR 8.

SENATE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

Relating to changing the name of the St. Louis Central Office of the Division of Workforce Development to the "Nathaniel J. "Nat" Rivers Office of the Division of Workforce Development"

WHEREAS, Nathaniel J. "Nat" Rivers served the people of the City of St. Louis as a member of the Missouri House of Representatives beginning in 1969, and he continued to serve for the next fourteen years; and

WHEREAS, Nat Rivers was born in Cache, Illinois and educated at Sumner High School in Cairo, Illinois, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and St. Louis University; and

WHEREAS, Nat Rivers, a real estate and insurance broker, was very active in his community, and served on the Board of Directors of Mid-City Rental Company, Union Sarah Community Corporation, West Side Redevelopment Corporation, WestEnd Congress, Union-Sarah Economic Development Corporation and West Side Community Gardens; and

WHEREAS, Nat Rivers was recognized for his contributions to the St. Louis community through numerous awards, including the St. Louis Citizens Award in Community Service in 1979, the Harris-Stowe College Award in recognition for his concern for Higher Education and Human Development in 1978, and the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Human Rights Award in 1979; and

WHEREAS, such awards only begin to recognize Nat Rivers' true accomplishments and contributions to the citizens of St. Louis and the State of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the most appropriate way to recognize an individual of Nat Rivers' stature is to name a public building after him; and

WHEREAS, the St. Louis Central Office of the Division of Workforce Development, located at 4811 Delmar Boulevard in the City of St. Louis, has no proper name; and

WHEREAS, this St. Louis Central Office provides much needed community services to persons in the St. Louis area, including job service and development, job corps, work opportunity and welfare-to-work information, job training assistance, veterans service and unemployment benefit information; and

WHEREAS, Nat Rivers' contributions and service to the community of St. Louis are exemplary and distinguished:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Senate of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, proclaims that the St. Louis Central Office of the Division of Workforce Development, located at 4811 Delmar Boulevard in the City of St. Louis, be hereby named the "Nathaniel J. "Nat" Rivers Office of the Division of Workforce Development", and that a sign or signs of appropriate size, lettering and design be constructed and placed on said office property with the name "Nathaniel J. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9

WHEREAS, the use of prescription drugs improves the quality of care and helps patients live healthier, longer, and more productive lives while keeping them out of more costly acute care settings in the long term; and

WHEREAS, the increased use of new and improved prescription drugs has changed the delivery of health care in the United States since Medicare was enacted, and while two-thirds of the Medicare population has some form of prescription drug coverage, although many times inadequate, one-third of Medicare beneficiaries have no coverage at all; and

WHEREAS, Congress did not enact a drug benefit in the Medicare program, therefore the program is inadequate in providing the elderly and disabled the most appropriate drug therapies, preventing the delivery of quality health care at an affordable cost; and

WHEREAS, the private sector provides affordable coverage by negotiating discounts on drugs and meeting the needs of special populations with chronic diseases and those with co-morbidities through coordinating care with disease management, drug utilization review, and patient education programs, all of which aid in ameliorating medical errors; and

WHEREAS, comprehensive reform of the Medicare program would utilize the successful tools of the private sector in coordinating care for this population and use the marketplace to foster competition among private plans, resulting in more choices of quality coverage for seniors and the disabled while maintaining the financial sustainability of the program; and

WHEREAS, the failure of Congress to provide for comprehensive reform of Medicare and the encouraging of states to use their own resources to ease the burden of the elderly and disabled Medicare populations, in effect, result in an unfunded informal mandate on the states; and

WHEREAS, in implementing state programs to assist the Medicare population, state budgetary constraints can often result in requirements to restrict and limit patient access to needed prescription drugs, and the enactment of anti-competitive price controls:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the of the Ninety-second General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby request that the United States Congress enact financially sustainable, voluntary, universal, and privately administered out-patient prescription drug coverage as part of the federal Medicare program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTY-SECOND DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2003

Speaker Hanaway in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James Earl Jackson.

Heavenly Father, You have said that "if any lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all generously and without reproach, and it will be given to him" so we ask and receive of You wisdom for this day.

We are grateful to have wisdom, discernment, and knowledge for every decision we make. Guide us in all decisions. Give us answers and solutions. May we seek Your heart and make no decisions outside of Your will.

Give us strength so that we will not grow weary. For Your grace is sufficient. Give us humility so we would not lose our way. Give us favor that we might be united as we walk in the center of Your will.

Now may the grace of our Lord and the love of God be with us all.

To You be the glory, both now and forever, in the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: John Stanley, Lee Midgett, Ashley M. Every health carrier and health benefit plan, as defined in section 376.1350, offering health benefit plans that are delivered, issued for delivery, continued or renewed after January 1, 2004, shall provide coverage for hearing aids and associated hearing evaluations and consumable supplies that are prescribed, fitted, and dispensed by an otolaryngologist or a licensed audiologist to dependent children through age nineteen covered under a policy, contract, or plan.

2. The hearing aids covered under this section shall:

6. The health care service required by this section shall not be subject to any greater deductible or co-payment than other similar health care services provided by the policy, contract, or plan. No health insurer or health benefit plan subject to this section shall request or require hearing acuity information from or about persons applying for coverage.

7. This section shall not apply to a supplemental insurance policy, including a life care contract, accident-only policy, specified disease policy, hospital policy providing a fixed daily benefit only, Medicare supplement policy, long-term care policy, short-term major medical policies of six months or less duration, or any other supplemental policy as determined by the director of the department of insurance.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 92nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTY-THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 2003

Speaker Pro Tem Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Frank Buchanan II, Peace Tabernacle Church, Joplin, Missouri.

Dear Jesus,

Good Morning. We offer praise and honor to You, the Creator of the Universe, the One true and living God. Please forgive us of our debts, our failures and our many shortcomings. We confess our lack of wisdom and need of You today.

I ask that You would bless the United States of America, our troops and the State of Missouri. Please preside over the business being conducted here today. Help each one to think clearly and make decisions based on Your Word. You know the very thoughts and intents of our hearts. Help us to have pure thoughts and motives. Let Your Spirit move at will in this Chamber and speak to those who will listen for Your voice.

Thank You for this day and for each one gathered here. Thank You for blessing us with Your presence and for helping us find Your perfect will. Also, thank You for blessing our country and protecting us by Your mighty power.

2. Persons desiring to practice as physical therapists in this state shall appear before the board at such time and place as the board may direct and be examined as to their fitness to engage in such practice. Applications for examination shall be in writing, on a form furnished by the board and shall include evidence satisfactory to the board that the applicant possesses the qualifications set forth in subsection 1 of this section. Each application shall contain a statement that it is made under oath or affirmation and that its representations are true and correct to the best knowledge and belief of the person signing the statement, subject to the penalties of making a false affidavit or declaration. The board shall not issue a permanent license to practice as a physical therapist or allow any person to sit for the Missouri state board examination for physical therapists who has failed three or more times any physical therapist licensing examination administered in one or more states or territories of the United States or the District of Columbia. The board may waive the provisions of this section if:

(1) The applicant is licensed and has maintained an active clinical practice for the previous three years in another state of the United States, the District of Columbia or Canada and the applicant has achieved a passing score on a licensing examination administered in a state or territory of the United States or District of Columbia and no license issued to the applicant has been disciplined or limited in any state or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia; or

(2) The applicant has held a provisional license pursuant to section 334.535 for three years and the provisional license has not been disciplined or limited.

If the applicant fails the licensure examination three times, and then obtains a professional degree in physical therapy at a higher level than previously completed, the applicant can sit for the licensure examination three additional times.

3. The examination of qualified candidates for licenses to practice physical therapy shall include a written examination and shall embrace the subjects taught in reputable programs of physical therapy education, sufficiently strict to test the qualifications of the candidates as practitioners. The examination shall be given by the board at least once each year and shall be administered to all candidates, and the examination given at any particular time shall be the same for all candidates and the same subjects shall be included and the same questions shall be asked. Candidates shall be required to achieve a passing score, as determined by the board, on an examination before being issued a license.

The board shall adopt by rule procedures for reinstatement of the provisional license if the person obtains a new supervising licensed physical therapist.

334.540. 1. The board shall issue a license to any physical therapist who is licensed in another jurisdiction and who has had no violations, suspensions or revocations of a license to practice physical therapy in any jurisdiction, provided that, such person is licensed in a jurisdiction whose requirements are substantially equal to, or greater than, the requirements for licensure of physical therapists in Missouri at the time the applicant applies for licensure.

2. Every applicant for a license pursuant to this section, upon making application and showing the necessary qualifications as provided in subsection 1 of this section, shall be required to pay the same fee as the fee required to be paid by applicants who apply to take the examination before the board. Within the limits provided in this section, the board may negotiate reciprocal compacts with licensing boards of other states for the admission of licensed practitioners from Missouri in other states.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of this section, the board shall not issue a license to any applicant who has failed three or more times any physical therapist licensing examination administered in one or more states or territories of the United States or the District of Columbia. The board may waive the provisions of this section if:

If the applicant fails the licensure examination three times, and then obtains a professional degree in physical therapy at a higher level than previously completed, the applicant can sit for the licensure examination three additional times.

The applicant shall state the good and exceptional cause in writing and shall verify such statement by oath. The board shall define good and exceptional cause by rules and regulations. The duration of the temporary licensure shall be determined by the board.

3. The board may renew a temporary license not to exceed six months following the first failure of the examination by an applicant if such person submits an amended agreement-to-supervise form which is signed by the applicant's supervising licensed physical therapist. 2. Should the examination results prove unsatisfactory and the board refuse to issue a license as a physical therapist thereon, the applicant failing to pass the examination may reapply and return to any meeting and be examined upon payment of a reexamination fee[; but no temporary license may be issued to such persons]. A renewed temporary license may be issued to such persons pursuant to subsection 3 of section 334.550.

3. Upon failure for the second time of an applicant for licensure as a physical therapist by examination, the board shall require the applicant to pursue and successfully complete a program of remediation before sitting for the examination for a third time. Such program of remediation shall:

- (1) Be submitted on forms and in a manner approved by the board;
- (2) Be provided by a licensed physical therapist approved by the board prior to the initiation of the program; and
- (3) Have the results of the program documented by the licensed physical therapist, and reviewed and approved by the board following completion of the program.

4. Upon failure for the third time of an applicant for licensure as a physical therapist by examination, the board shall not permit such applicant to reapply for the examination. Such persons shall not receive a license to practice as a physical therapist in this state, except as otherwise provided in sections 334.530 to 334.540.

9. At all times the physician is responsible for the oversight of the activities of, and accepts responsibility for, health care services rendered by the physician assistant.

10. No physician may be designated to serve as supervising physician for more than three full-time equivalent licensed physician assistants.
